

World Leaders Hail Cooper as Hero; Doctors Laud His Physical Condition

Flight May Speed Landing on Moon

Astronaut Woozy at Landing But Called Entirely Normal

BY RALPH DIGHTON
ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper was merely a bit woozy when he finished a 34-hour trip into space—and thereby may have hastened the day when man lands on the moon.

Cooper, 36, expressed confidence that "We have learned a lot from this mission for future, more extended space operations."

The spaceman's perilous descent to his exactly predicted impact point 96 miles southeast of Midway Island Thursday afternoon was full of drama and heroism. But his physical condition was what most pleased space agency doctors examining him today.

Jobless and Jobs Increase

"Condition Normal"
Ben James, National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman aboard this recovery ship, said the medical men were "very happy with Cooper's condition. In layman's language, you would say his condition is normal."

"The only thing he did experience was about 15 seconds of being woozy after he stepped out of his Faith 7 capsule. This was normal and expected."

The tests and the engineering debriefing sessions will continue until Cooper is flown from the Kearsarge to Honolulu Saturday afternoon for a parade and public reception.

Long Study Needed
Their results will require long evaluation, but optimism was evident that the main stated objective of this longest American space journey had been reached.

This was: "Study the effects of approximately one day in orbital flight on the astronaut; verify that man can function in space as a primary 'system' aboard the spacecraft modified for a full-day mission."

The Soviets remained far ahead in orbits and flight lengths, with a record of 64 and 48 revolutions last August. But they have divulged little of their cosmonauts' condition.

American space agency doctors had expressed fears beforehand that Cooper might faint—or worse—when he came down. They obviously were delighted he did not.

President Kennedy, who congratulated the Oklahoma Air Force major by telephone a few minutes after he hit the deck, told the nation on radio and television that Cooper's feat "represents a great achievement for our society."

Increases in factory and contract construction payrolls were noted. Factory jobs bucked the usual March to April decline, edging ahead 100,000 to 16.7 million. Contract construction jobs outdistanced the usual seasonal gain, rising 280,000 to 2.5 million for the first marked advance in this field in nine months.

The Commerce Department reported that retail trade for the week ended May 11 was an estimated $4.8 billion, up 1 per cent from the preceding week and 3 per cent from the comparable week of 1962.

On the gloomy side: Joblessness stands at 5.7 per cent, a small increase from the 5.6 per cent of March.

Payrolls Climb
Other figures released Thursday by the department and the reserve board:

April non-farm payrolls climbed by 800,000 to lift the job total to a record 55.9 million—"a substantially better than seasonal job expansion" according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Over-all unemployment dropped 40,000 to 4.1 million, a largely seasonal decline.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate showed an increase because of the great number of Americans joining the labor market.

It began with a scrub that everyone agreed was a useful dress rehearsal. Then, on the next day, Wednesday, Cooper had a perfect blast-off, one of the best launches so far, a near perfect insertion into orbit.

Perfectly Relaxed
Cooper seemed to take his good fortune in stride. He was probably the most relaxed, the most nonchalant man in space the world has had the opportunity to witness.

It turned out, his doctors felt from radioed medical evidence, that he may have dozed off in his space craft waiting for blast-off. Cooper admitted taking a catnap on his second orbit. His fellow astronauts on the ground supposed he might take other catnaps when he had nothing to do. Finally he slept for 7½ hours during a planned rest period, awoke refreshed.

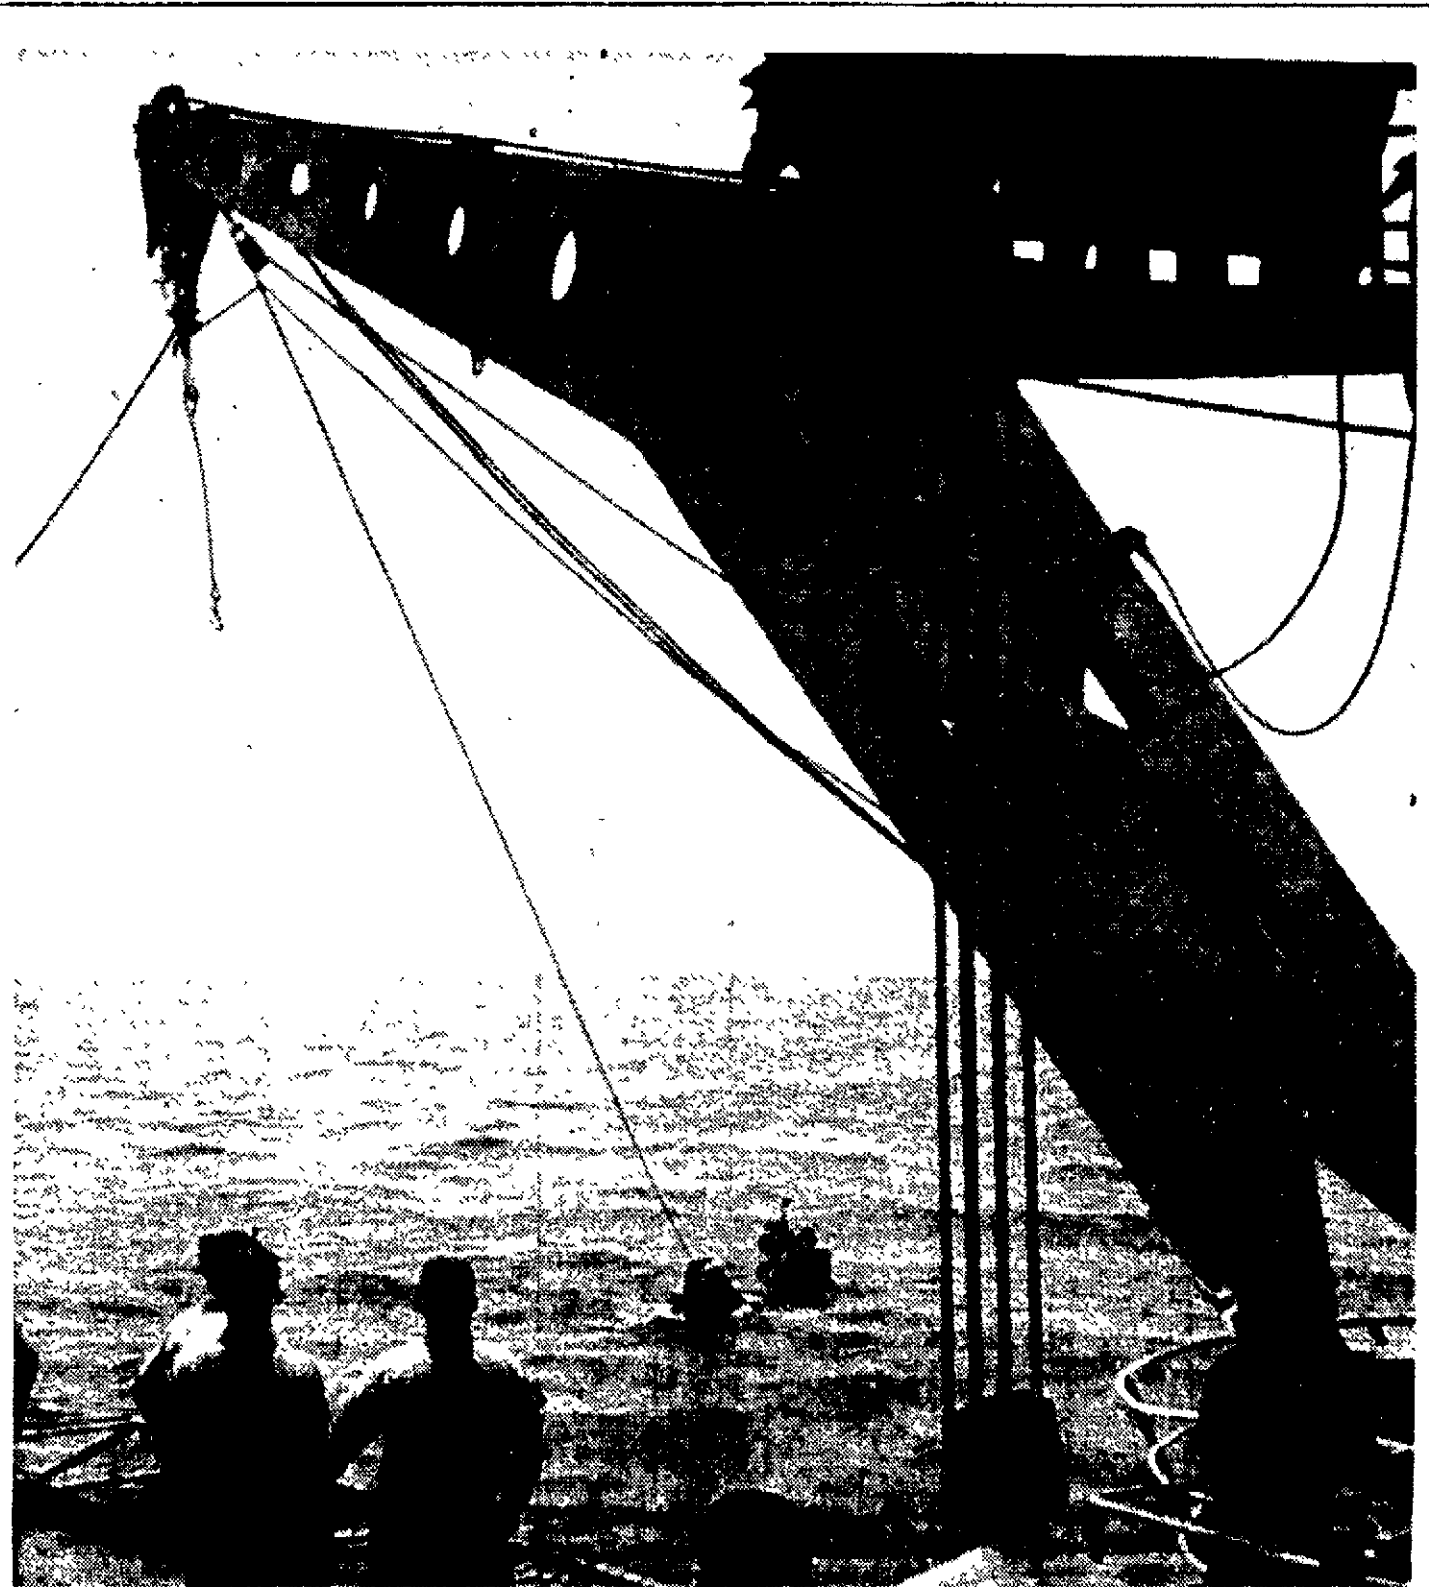

It seemed almost as dull as catching the bus to go to work on Monday morning.

Feed Grains Bill Given Approval In Senate, 45-35

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats have given President Kennedy a major farm program victory, passing the administration's feed grains control bill before a nationwide wheat controls referendum comes up for a vote.

Seventeen Republican amendments designed to delay final passage of the bill were beaten back before the Senate Thursday night stamped a 45-35 vote of approval on continuing voluntary controls over corn and livestock feed grains for the next two years. Both Wisconsin senators voted for passages.

In a last-minute move of desperation the Republicans tied their hopes for delay on a typographical error, but the Senate voted 43 to 34 to have its clerk make the correction, as usual.

Moments later the capsule was lifted to the carrier's hangar deck and Cooper stepped out. A Navy whaleboat which had towed the capsule to the Kearsarge is hovering just behind it. (AP Wirephoto)

Cooper Termed 'Magnificent' in Facing Challenge Before Landing

Relaxed Most of Time
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—For some 29 hours, astronaut Gordon Cooper was a man waiting for a challenge. It came and he met it magnificently.

This is the story of a relaxed man—a man who can catch a catnap a hundred miles above the earth between jobs—and the story of that man in stress.

"It was indeed a magnificent performance. Gordo was on top of the flight all the time. He was acting perfectly as a human computer."

That was the statement of Cooper's fellow astronaut, Alan B. Shepard Jr., as he sat later in the glare of camera lights and tried to put into words just what Cooper had done.

It began with a scrub that everyone agreed was a useful dress rehearsal. Then, on the next day, Wednesday, Cooper had a perfect blast-off, one of the best launches so far, a near perfect insertion into orbit.

Since no change was made in the version already passed by the House, the bill goes to the President—probably on Monday—for his expected signing into law.

Khrushchev Voices Warm Praise; Europeans Tense Until He Lands in Safety

BY ANTHONY WHITE
LONDON (AP)—The cool courage, iron nerve and skill of astronaut Gordon Cooper aroused the wonder and astonishment of Western Europe today.

World leaders—including Soviet Premier Khrushchev—cabled congratulations to President Kennedy. Khrushchev saluted the "Courageous American astronaut" and said his flight had "made a new contribution to the exploration of the expanses of the universe."

Through the evening and into the early morning Europeans followed the last tension-packed hours of his voyage.

In cities and towns across Western Europe they followed the thrilling story on radio and television links with Cape Canaveral and the carrier Kearsarge.

London Headlines
Today the story was spread across the front pages.

"Gordon does it by the seat of his pants," trumpeted the London Daily Mirror.

"Glorious splashdown!" the Daily Herald cried.

"All By Himself!" ran a Daily Mail banner.

The admiration was accompanied by relief that he had made it down safely after the worry when technical failure in the capsule forced him to drive the thing down himself.

Millions of Europeans shared the tension-crowded moments. On television hookups via the Telstar 2 and relay satellites they heard Mercury Control's report as Cooper fired his reverse rockets and moved the capsule into its re-entry position.

Across continental Europe local commentators translated the Mercury Control reports as Cooper made his descent.

Then came the word his parachute had opened, he was sighted.

Canadian Army Man Killed by Bomb Blast

MONTREAL (AP)—An Army engineer, Sgt. Maj. Walter Rolland Leja, 42, was fatally injured today by a bomb blast as he tried to dismantle the bomb before hundreds of horrified spectators in suburban Westmount.

He was given emergency treatment on the spot but died en route to hospital.

He was the only casualty reported as the result of a wave of bombings that began in early morning and were directed at mail boxes in Westmount.

Shortly after Leja's death, police received a report that another bomb had been found in the northeastern section of Montreal, several miles from the Westmount area.

Police did not immediately attribute the bombings to any person or organization, but an outlaw separatist organization — Le Front de Liberation Quebecois — has claimed responsibility for similar bombings in recent months. Westmount is a stronghold of English-speaking residents. The front advocates secession of this French-speaking province from Canada.

2 Pilots Involved
North Koreans Report U. S. Army Copter Forced Down by Gunfire

BY CHARLES S. CHIN
SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Communist North Korea said its ground forces fired on and forced down a U.S. Army helicopter today just north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The Reds said the plane was damaged badly.

No Word on Pilots
There was no announcement of the fate of the two American pilots, Capt. Ben Weakley Stutts and Capt. Charleston W. Voltz.

The disclosure that the helicopter was brought down by gunfire was made by the senior North Korean delegate to the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command had told the commission earlier that the helicopter made an emergency landing on the north side of the Han River estuary, in Red territory 17 miles northwest of Seoul. The U.N. Command requested that the Communists return the pilots and the aircraft immediately.

The Communist delegate called the flight an intentional breach of the armistice agreement but evaded a direct reply to the request for return of the men and the helicopter. In a similar case in 1958 an American pilot was returned in 11 days.

A U.N. spokesman said the officers were making a routine check of identification markers along the south side of the demilitarized zone the 1953 armistice established to separate the two Koreas.

The spokesman said Stutts and Voltz were experienced pilots who were familiar with the area.

U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, the senior U.N. member of the Mixed Armistice Commission, made the request for the return of the men and the helicopter at a commission meeting at Panmunjom.

Cloud told the Communists the violation of North Korean territory was unintentional.

Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-wan, the chief North Korean delegate, retorted that the flight over Red soil was "part of the U.S. imperialists' hostile activities in Korea." He said such experienced pilots could not have made a navigational error.

Cloud replied that in the past the U.N. command has admitted irrationally any violation by its forces of the armistice agreement. He said the command would take appropriate measures to punish the two pilots as specified by the armistice agreement if it was proved they had erred.

Sen. Kennedy's Wife Suffers Miscarriage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts senator, was resting at home today after losing her expected baby by miscarriage.

Joan Bennett Kennedy, 26, suffered the miscarriage on Tuesday, but it was not confirmed until Thursday by the senator's office.

The senator, 30, brother of President Kennedy, and his blonde wife have two other children, Kara, 3, and Edward M. Jr., who will be 2 in September.

Their third child had been expected in late August or early September.

Optimistic Bids Need Fine Play

There's nothing startling about the bidding of today's hand if you happen to be an Englishman. The English like to bid hands to the hill, preferably by leaps and bounds. If they get into difficult contracts they just have to play the cards well to get out with a whole skin.

Louis Tarlo, a London solicitor (lawyer) and noted bridge expert, got himself to six hearts in this hand with the assistance of an enthusiastic partner. Few other competitors in the London Indigo either bid as much or made as many tricks.

Tarlo won the first trick with the ace of clubs, noting that he could win six trumps, two black aces, and two top diamonds. He needed two other tricks for the contract.

It was easy to develop a club trick by returning the jack of clubs from dummy sooner or later. But then where was the twelfth trick? Could South try the spade or the diamond finesse? Or should he try to ruff out the queen of diamonds?

Good Sequence
Tarlo arranged a good sequence of plays to give himself the best chance for the contract. He cashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond to begin with. If the queen of diamonds had failed to fall, he would have tried a spade finesse later.

As it happened, the queen of diamonds did come down. Now Tarlo drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and gave up the jack of clubs. He could get back to dummy with the ace of spades to cash the ten of clubs and the jack of diamonds, thus making sure of the slam.

It would have been wrong to draw trumps and lead the club before touching diamonds. West

Service Circle Hears Reports On Sale, Teas

Mrs. Robert Rae reported on rummage sale plans when the Service Circle of the King's Daughters met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond Bennett, 1115 Green Grove Road. The sale was held Thursday and will continue through today at Valley Fair Shopping Center.

A report on the 'At Home' teas was given by Mrs. John Gall. Proceeds from the April events will be given to St. Elizabeth Hospital Modernization Fund and the YM-CA Building Fund. An additional pledge of $700 was made to the Y Fund.

Husbands of circle members will be guests at the June 1 picnic.

CLINTONVILLE — The Order of Eastern Star met Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. Following the regular meeting lunch was served by Mrs. John Buehrens, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas, and Mrs. O. H. Kuckuk.

The next meeting will be May 28.

would return a spade, and South would have to guess whether to rely on the spade finesse or some sort of play in diamonds.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S A Q 4 H J 10 9 D A J 8 3 C J 10 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds (American style). It is risky to bid notrump without a club stopper, and you cannot jump to three hearts with only three cards in the suit. Make a temporizing bid in a suit of your own and await developments.

Live Within Your Income Couple Asks: 'What Do We Do With Tax Rebate?'

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

We are due to receive over $200 back from the government. Our problem is whether we should invest half and put the other half in our savings account, or put the whole amount in savings.

We have been married for only two years and have no bills to pay off. Please advise us.

Mrs. F.B., New Britain, Conn.

Dear Mrs. B.:

Do you have from three to six months' income already in your savings account? If not, I suggest you put the whole $200 into savings. This is generally considered a reasonable amount — three to six months' income — to have on hand for emergencies before you think in terms of investments.

Since you've been married for only two years, and have no bills to pay off, it would seem something of a miracle if you have managed to tuck away so large a reserve. But staying ahead of your bills is no small accomplishment in itself.

Dear Miss Feeley:

On an income of $950 a month, take home pay, what would be a normal amount to allot for food for a family of five adults?

Also, please straighten me out on this: just what is included in the food budget? Should it include eating out and such things as brooms, paper towels and cooking utensils bought at the supermarket? Or just what is actually edible? It's so difficult to separate the food products from the grocery bill.

R.M., Oakland, Calif.

Dear R.M.:

Starting with question number one, on your income of $950 a month you might well allow $50 a week, or $215 a month, for food for five adults. This is assuming your other basic expenses are in line, including a regular savings program.

As for what should be counted in the food budget, the answer is just food. Food you eat at home. If eating out is an occasional treat, let that come under the head of entertainment expenses. Separating the food products from the grocery bill sends many a woman into a tizzy. But when you keep in mind that if you can't eat it, it isn't food, the fog begins to clear.

Those other items — the brooms, paper towels, and cooking utensils — should come under the head of household operating costs. These are added up along with utilities, heating costs and equipment repairs.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I'm being married in August. The wedding will be at my home, with only relatives and close friends invited. But my fiancé and I have so many relatives between us, even that means quite a crowd! I'm trying to keep down expenses, and wonder if it's necessary to send out engraved invitations. I want things to be nice especially as my fiancé's mother is very proper.

Sue T.

Dear Sue:

You can be just as proper as your fiancé's mother, if you send out handwritten invitations to an informal wedding instead of engraved ones. Have your mother or another senior member of your family write the notes.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of this newspaper)

Find Abundant Floral Choice In May, June

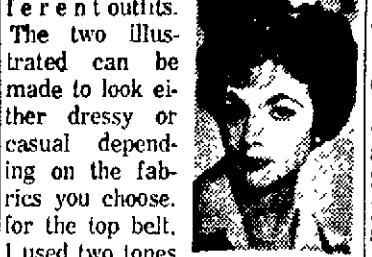

Virtually all flowers are considered "good buys" in May and June because they are in abundant supply. Among the flowers in plentiful supply are carnations, snapdragons, daisies, peonies, and roses.

To preserve the life of these and other cut flowers, recut their stems diagonally with a sharp knife; place stem ends in a container of warm water; remove all foliage — including the thorns of roses — below the water line; and add a commercial flower preservative.

Should stem ends become soft or decayed, recut the stems diagonally to remove that portion. If any flowers look wilted, recut their stems and place them in very warm water. Keep cut flower arrangements away from direct sunshine and drafts. It is recommended they be placed in a cool, dark place at night which will refresh the flowers and prolong their life.

SEAMS TO ME Belts Are Attractive

By Patricia Scott

Pat Scott

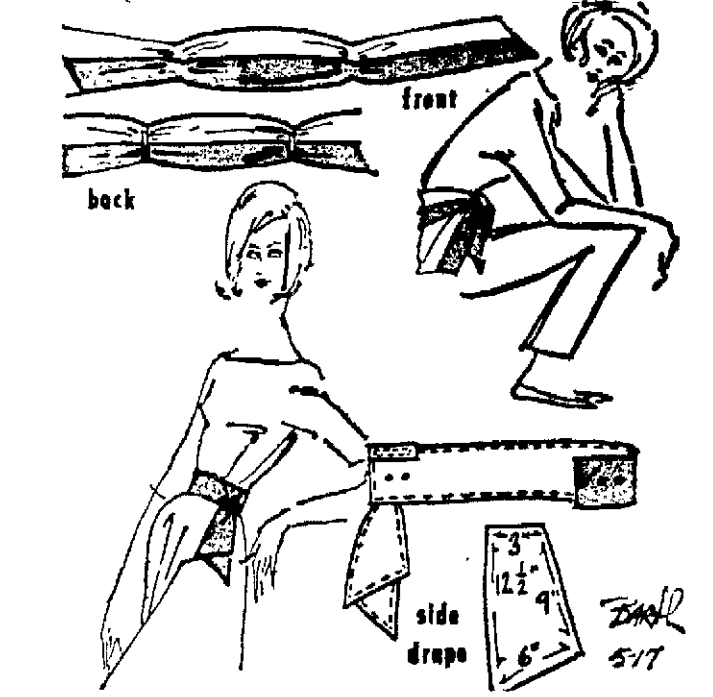

By wearing interesting belts, patio pants and dance separates can be given the illusion of being completely different outfits. The two illustrated can be made to look either dressy or casual depending on the fabrics you choose. For the top belt, I used two tones of cotton satin.

Two-Tone Cotton Sash: Cut two pieces of different colors on the bias. Each strip is 8 inches wide and as long as your front waist measurement plus 40 inches. Add ½ inch for seam allowance. With right sides together, stitch two pieces together along one long side. Stitch other long side leaving a 3-inch opening to turn. Stitch the two short sides. Trim seams, turn to right side, slip-stitch opening closed and press seamed edges only. Slide fabric so that folded edges are on top and bottom and top half of sash is one color and bottom is the other, as shown. Press. Mark front waist measurement at each side seam, centering them so that an equal amount of sash extends from each mark. Cut two 2½ inches long. Cover each with fabric. Pin several small pleats at waist marks so sash is gathered pieces of featherboning, each Place featherboning over pleats at each side. Hem securely in place, catching pleats at the same time.

Taffeta Belt With Side Drape: Cut one belt piece on the straight grain, 3 inches wide and as long as your waist measurement plus 2 inches. For side drape, cut 2 pieces, as shown. The 12½ inch side of drape is cut on the straight of grain. Add ½ inch seam allowance to all measurements. Using heavy non-woven interfacing, cut 2 belt pieces and 2 drape pieces. Do not add seam allowance. Turn taffeta edges of all pieces under ½ inch and press. Place double layer of interfacing on wrong side of belt and wide and as long as your front waist measurement plus 40 inches. Place dot snapper 1½ inches from belt edge and one on each side of it ¾ inch apart. Using ball part of snapper, place two on wrong side at other end of belt. Place one so that it meets the center snapper on the other end and fits your waist perfectly. The other goes ¾ inch away from adjustable. Take the two side drapes, place one on top of the edges over belt edge ¾ inch as shown, on end of belt where the two snappers are. Top-stitch together securely. On right side, make two pleats shaping the drape and tack. Place a large gold, or jeweled pin over the pleats.

10 Attachment Orders Upheld

Circuit Court Rules For Fond du Lac School Group Plan

FOND DU LAC — Ten school attachment orders of the Fond du Lac County School Committee have been upheld in a circuit court decision.

The court action was instituted after the school committee issued attachment orders in 1962. During the same period the City of Fond du Lac annexed so-called "islands" on property in the Town of Fond du Lac which wrestled three industries from the township.

Circuit Judge R. E. Hanson ruled in favor of the school committee and State Supt. of Public Instruction Angus Rothwell in rendering his decision.

Residents of 10 school districts had appealed to the court to void the attachment order. Judge Hanson said the county school committee did have jurisdiction to enter the attachment orders involved and dismissed the appeal which was spearheaded by the Town of Fond du Lac.

However, Judge Hanson took issue with the contention of legal counsel for Rothwell that the court lacked jurisdiction in the matter. This was the basis for the dismissal of the appeal requested by the state department of public instruction.

The 10 different school attachment orders had been issued between July 24 and July 31, 1962.

Still pending is a major decision on the suit of the Town of Fond du Lac and two industries to have the City of Fond du Lac mass annexations declared void. The school matter was a side issue.

Telephone Worker Honored On His 25th Anniversary

What is the worth of a telephone pole?

In the United States, a telephone pole may cost more than $50. In India, "two Wogs can install a telephone pole in half a day for one rupee ... about 30 cents."

Orville Yingling, 1006 E. Glendale Avenue, Appleton, related some of his experiences on his 25th anniversary with the Wisconsin Telephone Co. Fredrick C. Schaefer, district plant manager of the Neenah - Menasha area, presented Yingling with a diamond service emblem at a dinner in his honor today.

During World War II, Yingling served with the signal corps in China, Burma and India. "Because of the lack of manpower," Yingling recalled, "we hired Wogs (local Indians) to help us put in some of the telephone poles for our communications system."

With today's modern equipment, a hole for a telephone pole can be dug in less than an hour. In India, where modern equipment is not available, a man's hands are his most important possession.

"Two Wogs would begin digging a hole with a shovel," Yingling related. "When the hole got deep enough, they would get into it and throw the dirt out by hand. By the time they were finished, the hole was big enough to bury a truck."

Yingling began his career with the Wisconsin Telephone Company in 1937 as a groundman in

"We just gave our lawn its 2nd feeding. That took care of weeds automatically!"

That's the beauty of BONUS—it saves you time and trouble—and cash!

When you're doing the right thing by your lawn — do yourself a favor, too. When you're giving it the second feeding (due about now) take care of weeds at the same time, simply by using BONUS in place of your usual fertilizer.

If you skipped the early Spring feeding

All the more reason for using BONUS now — without delay! First there are the weeds you can plainly see, like dandelions. And then there may be many others, hidden by the grass, simply waiting for warmer weather before growing aggressively. BONUS clears them out the easy way.

Dandelions vanish — grass grows greener

Simply pour a bag of BONUS into your Scotts Spreader and walk it around. One day you'll suddenly realize that every dandelion has vanished — and that your grass is greener, richer, lovelier.

This takes less time than doing both jobs separately — and costs you less than 1/2¢ per sq ft. So you're ahead, any way you figure.

If you want to see the dramatic effectiveness of BONUS, leave one spreader width of your lawn untreated. Then in a month's time compare it with the rest. You'll wish it looked like the rest of your lawn.

Got a lawn problem?

Take it to your Scotts Dealer. Look up his Scotts Counselor. You'll find him ready, willing and able to give you practical, helpful advice. Got a weed you can't identify? Dig it up and take it in to him. And don't be backward about asking for help. So many of the nicest lawns are Scotts lawns, not only because the products are good but because they are distributed by dealers who back them with sound advice and guidance.

This week end would be a fine time to

Nine Years Ago High Court Ended School Segregation

Some Cities, States Have Obeyed Order, but Violence Dominates

BY RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

At noon, May 17, 1954, the United States Supreme Court outlawed racial segregation in the public schools, striking at the foundations of a century-old social barrier, and opening a new sector in the battle over civil rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, reading the 9-0 decision, intoned the key passage: "In the field of public education, the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

"We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal opportunity? We believe that it does."

Nine years ago today the ruling became history.

The ninth anniversary comes against a backdrop of dangerous racial strife in Birmingham, Ala., disturbances in Nashville, Tenn., and Negro sympathy demonstrations in a number of Northern cities.

When the court handed down the decision, segregation was mandatory in 17 Southern and border states and the District of Columbia.

Three Remain

Today, desegregation of elementary and high schools, in varying degrees, has taken place in all but three states—Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina.

In the 18 areas, 237,628 Negro children are enrolled in previously all-white schools.

The District of Columbia, with and community-supported private schools attempted to do the job.

No Immediacy

Elsewhere, too, Southern lawyers pointed to the phrase, "with all deliberate speed," in the Supreme Court ruling ordering desegregation. Thus, they said, there was no immediacy to desegregate. The order might be delayed for years on grounds of local complications.

The white Southerner, after all, had been placed in an agonizingly difficult position.

Almost overnight he was ordered to change his attitudes, habits, customs and deeply rooted traditions—which, moreover, had been supported by law for more than 100 years.

In 1849, a Massachusetts case upheld the legality of "separate but equal" in the Boston schools (the legislature promptly desegregated them by statute). In San Francisco, in the early 1900's, children of oriental parentage were sent to separate schools for a brief period.

But the towering, landmark litigation—on which the Southerner had based his case for segregation—was Plessy vs. Ferguson in 1896. Here, the United States Supreme Court upheld a Louisiana statute requiring separate accommodations for Negroes and whites on the railroad. The court pointed to segregation of the schools as a precedent for the railroad ruling.

Then, in 1954, another Supreme Court reversed this position.

Reconstruction Era

Like an echo of the reconstruction era, Southerners angrily charged that "the North is trying to jam integration down our throats."

In the nine years since the court decision, there have been many ramifications in the board and difficult field of race relations.

The Birmingham struggle, for example, is over Negro demands for desegregation of lunch counters and fitting rooms in the stores, for improved conditions of employment, etc.

In some Southern cities, Negroes deposed "Jim Crow," the rule that required him to sit in the back of the buses.

In others, they demonstrated for the right to use swimming pools, libraries, museums. They learned the power of the economic boycott. They used non-violent methods, "sit-ins" and "kneel-ins" to dramatize and enforce their demands.

With the help of federal courts, they are fighting discriminatory practices with regard to registration for voting. And in regions where they have been prevented, or discouraged, from voting, their leaders are carrying out registration drives. Their political power is growing in the South.

All this has had repercussions in the North.

In Englewood, N.J., there have been two years of sit-ins, demonstrations and controversy over Lincoln Elementary School. It has a 90 per cent Negro enrollment.

Fox Cities Area Students Get College Honors

DE PERE — Fox Cities and Oshkosh area students are among those honor students at St. Norbert College recognized at the annual Honors Convocation Thursday in the Hall of Fine Arts and at the Dean's Dinner in the Memorial Union.

Miss Kathryn Lindquist, Mena-

In a similar case in New Jersey, the state education commissioner spoke of "extreme racial imbalance."

Oakwood School

Oakwood, the school involved, has a 99 per cent Negro enrollment. The commissioner, Frederick M. Raubinger, said that although there was no intentional segregation, the situation in fact "constitutes under New Jersey law a deprivation of educational opportunity for pupils compelled to attend the school." But he did not tell the school board specifically how to balance the enrollment at Oakwood.

In Washington last Wednesday, a House Education subcommittee voted to deny federal funds to segregated schools which do not present desegregation plans next month, and do not have a plan in operation by June, 1964.

In Birmingham, Ala., last week a prominent businessman told this correspondent the white attitude toward desegregation is in a "55-45-25" pattern.

"People over 55 say they'll never accept integration," he said. "Those in their 40's say they don't like it but expect to have to agree. And those in their 20's say, 'it's inevitable. Let's accept as much as is necessary and get the show on the road.'" sha music major was honored as a Magna Cum Laude graduate. She was recognized for her selection to Delta Epsilon Sigma, national Catholic honor society, and to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Lawrence Schoenberger, Oshkosh was honored for his selection to the honor society and to "Who's Who."

The Dean's Dinner honors students who have made the dean's list during any of the four marking periods of the academic year. A student must have a 3.5 grade average to attain the honor.

Dr. Knight, Bishop Will Give Talks

Speakers for 114th Commencement at Lawrence College

President Douglas M. Knight and the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bennison, bishop of Western Michigan, will speak at Lawrence College's 114th commencement and baccalaureate services respectively, on June 9.

The commencement speech and subsequent awarding of degrees will be President Knight's last public appearance at the college he has served for nine years. During the summer he and his family will move to Durham, N.C., where he will assume the presidency of Duke University.

Bishop Bennison has strong ties to Lawrence. He attended the college from 1935 through 1938, finishing his B.A. at the University of Minnesota. He received his theological training at Seabury-Western Seminary in Evanston, Ill., and was given a doctorate of divinity by the same school in 1960.

Seminary Trustee

He has served parishes in Hastings, Minn., Basswood Grove, Minn.; Prescott, Wis.; Joliet, Ill., and Kalamazoo, Mich., before his election to bishop in 1959. He has organized three mission churches, one at Joliet and two near Kalamazoo. In Kalamazoo, he built St. Luke's church from 1,000 to 1,700 members, and raised $360,000 for a building program.

Bishop Bennison is a trustee of Seabury-Western Theological Seminary, a past president of its alumni association, has been chaplain at Statesville Penitentiary, former president of the Kalamazoo Ministerial Alliance, and is currently on the National Council for a Greater Lawrence, an advisory group for the current Lawrence Ten-Year plan.

Bishop Bennison's eldest son Charles Jr., is a sophomore at Lawrence, and is co-chairman of the Prospective Student committee as well as desk editor of the campus newspaper.

The baccalaureate service will be held in Memorial Chapel at 10:45 a.m., while the commencement will take place on the lawn of the main campus at 3 p.m., weather permitting. Both events are open to the public without ticket.

In addition to the awarding of the degrees in course and the honorary degrees, the Alumni Distinguished Service awards will be presented during the commencement ceremonies.

Assembly Rejects Lake Zoning Bill

Prospects for Effective Water Use Controls Dim

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The legislature has again shown its distaste for the idea of lake use zoning, which some conservation leaders insist will soon be required to cope with the increasing recreational demands upon the water resources of the state.

The Wisconsin assembly by a vote of 42 to 40 turned down a watered down version of a zoning proposal originally offered by the State Department of Resource Development. The measure would impose such zoning regulations as they choose, and that they would probably act upon the petition of a majority of the shoreline property owners on any lake.

The original measure would have given the state conservation department the initiative. It could have imposed regulations of its own and would have been given the power to outlaw power boats on all waters of less than 50 acres.

The measure will probably be voted upon again, but prospects for effective water use controls are dim. The substitute before the assembly would permit conservation department action zoning water use areas for fishing, bathing, boating, water skiing and other competitive sports upon the request of a majority of shoreline property owners, or of the local government area within which a lake is located.

Critics noted during the assembly floor debate that local governments now have authority under law to impose such zoning regulations as they choose, and that they would probably act upon the petition of a majority of the shoreline property owners on any lake.

The governor's policy was that the assembly's vote came with 48 hours of a conservation legislation message of Gov. John Reynolds which listed lake use zoning as one of its major points.

The governor adopted most of the recommendations on conservation originally offered to the legislature by former Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who was twice denied the recreational waters zoning legislation he had urged.

Opponents of the zoning idea centered their attack on the abdication of "home rule" and "local rights" involved. Through such chipping away at local powers, said assemblyman Curtis McKay of Ozaukee County, local government will one day disappear totally.

Glenn Merkel, 33, 515 Michael St., Kimberly, will be tried June 26 for two violations of an Appleton city ordinance which orders the vacation of taverns after 1 a.m. closing times. Merkel is owner of the Embers Cocktail Lounge, 730 W. College Ave.

Merkel appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today charged with the second violation of the city ordinance and he pleaded innocent. Merkel posted bond of $100.

The tavern owner was arrested May 5 by Appleton police who allegedly saw customers seated at the bar in Merkel's tavern at 2:35 a.m.

Merkel also was arrested by Appleton police March 26 for a similar offense. He pleaded innocent to that charge and was ordered to face trial June 26. His attorney has requested a 12-man jury.

County Judge Gustave Keller today ordered the second violation to be tried along with the first violation.

Bus Rider Fined; Failed to Take Cigar From Mouth

Clarence Miller, 68, 1822 S. Oneida St., pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and was fined $5 and costs by County Judge Gustave Keller in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today.

Miller was arrested by Appleton police Wednesday when he argued with a bus driver about putting out his cigar as he climbed aboard.

Police were called and the man still refused to take the cigar from his mouth. Police then arrested Miller for disorderly conduct.

Milwaukee Planner Advises Project 70 Committee to Tackle Problems, Seek Goals

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A bright future for the Appleton metropolitan region—providing it clearly defines and tackles its problems — was painted here Thursday by Richard W. E. Perrin, Milwaukee, one of the country's foremost municipal planning experts.

Perrin, executive director of Milwaukee's department of city development which has charge of that city's multi-million dollar urban renewal and improvement program, spoke to a group of community leaders at a Chamber of Commerce Project 70 Committee meeting held at the Conway Hotel.

Perrin, who has had 30 years' experience in all phases of private and governmental planning and is not one to hedge or mince words, made these observations:

● A report released this week showed that 17 Northern Wisconsin counties lost 50 percent of their population during the last two decades and it is a logical conclusion that many people re-located in the Appleton area as borne out in the 1960 census figures.

● Appleton or any other city cannot limit its facilitating projects to a given area but rather should concentrate on the community as a whole when it comes to paint-up, fix-up and rejuvenation.

● Although much emphasis is placed on the treatment of downtown areas in large and small cities across the nation, the main part of a city is bound to lose some business unless population increases occur.

● As Appleton grows it will have a rash of development outside of the central business district because the urban sprawl remains uncontrollable.

● The present condition of College Avenue with its poor street and scattergun store sign pattern does not truly reflect the progressive spirit of the residents of Appleton, nor the community's resources and potential.

● Unlike some metropolitan regions in the country, Appleton does not have a minority problem, or slums and blighted areas converging on the downtown area.

● Appleton is fortunate in that it does not have a massive planning problem which will make the task of defending the city's problems and future needs to the year 2,000 A.D. much easier.

● Federal aid is not always what it is put up to be and very often there are "strings attached" which hinder the progress or natural characteristics of a community. He applied this to urban renewal but indicated some federal aid in a voice vote.

Hope Lost on State Budget, Tax Compromise Before June Recess

Reynolds May Call Special Summer Session But Legislature May Try 'Strike' Tactic as Test

MADISON — Tired and dispirited, leaders of the legislature are preparing to end the regular session of deliberations in about three weeks and to order a recess that may last until October 1.

Republican majority caucus spokesmen confirmed last night that they have set June 7 as a target date for winding up regular session deliberations.

Hope for working out a compromise with Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds in the budget and taxation stalemate has virtually disappeared.

With the recess there will be a provision for continuing talks with the governor during the summer interim, on the chance that a settlement can be worked out and ratified in the fall session.

But the attitude of the Republican leadership clearly indicates that a compromise solution must come at the governor's initiative.

Failing some concessions by Reynolds, the legislative majority is prepared to require the state to operate under present tax receipts for the next two years—which would mean painful and politically sensitive adjustments in most of the major departments and services.

The bitter deadlock on taxing policies has put a blight on the legislative activity in general fields. Only a handful of significant measures has yet been approved by both houses. Hundreds of bills will be put to death with the early June recess. Some of the major pending measures will be kept alive until fall, but their fate is dubious because many of them involve appropriations and the legislative Republican majority is determined to avoid appropriation measures while the settlement of the budget and taxation fight is not assured.

The legislative recess may provide a constitutional test of the device that the legislature has used with increasing regularity during the last two decades.

Gov. Reynolds has hinted that he would regard a recess before adoption of a budget and tax measure as a "strike" by the hostile lawmakers.

He would almost surely issue a call to a special session, demanding the return of the legislators for what he will say is their constitutional duty.

Then the question would arise whether the governor has a right to summon the legislature into a special session, when it has not yet actually adjourned and technically remains in session and can return under its own authority.

Republican legislative leaders would resist the session call, whereupon the governor would probably refer the question to the supreme court.

But the supreme court by that time will have started its own summer recess, with the result that the matter would probably not be resolved until fall.

Student Gets WMU Position

Institute Graduate To Head Department Of Paper Technology

Raymond L. Janes, advanced graduate student at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, will become head of the department of paper technology at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, in September.

Western Michigan President James W. Miller said Janes will succeed Russell H. Savage, department head for the last two years.

Janes, who is married to the former Jane Edge of Appleton, has been an advanced graduate student at the Institute since 1960 and will complete his studies for his doctor of philosophy degree this summer. He received his master of science degree from the Institute in 1955.

Janes is the first alumnus of Western's paper technology program to return to the campus to head the department. He also was the first alumnus to become a regular member of the WMU paper technology faculty, teaching on the campus from 1957 to 1960.

From 1955 to 1957 he was a development engineer for Pettibone Forests, Inc., Lewiston, Idaho.

Janes' thesis is "A Study of the Molecular Properties of Starch in Relation to Fiber-to-Fiber Bonding." He and Mrs. Janes and their three children live at 5 West Court.

Menasha Town Board Opens Bids for Palisades Structure

MENASHA — The planned plumbing and sewage and electrical, contingent on the completion of certain forms and the supplying of a performance bond by the contractors.

Low Bids

The low bidder for the general contracting, with a bid of $16,810, was Lauer Brothers Construction Co., Neenah. Low bidder for the plumbing and sewage was R. Selig and Sons, Appleton, $3,757, low bidder for the heating and ventilating was Russell Sheet Metal Works, Menasha, $2,360, and low bidder for the electrical work was Drucks Electric, Menasha, $1,122.95.

According to the bid of Lauer Brothers, the general contractors, work can be started Monday, Page, Jacobs and Tom Orblison, of Orblison and Orblison, consulting engineers on the project, will meet with the low bidders at 1 p.m. Monday to sign the contracts. Town officials Thursday night could give no estimate of actual starting date for the work, although it was felt that it should start as soon as possible, probably next week.

July 2 Deadline

Completion, according to Lauer's bid, will be on or before July 2. This is for the general contracting only, with the other divisions of the project to be finished soon after that. Town officials hope to be using the shelter-meeting room building before the summer is over.

The building, containing about 16,000 cubic feet of space, will have a meeting room, fire-safe vault, utility room, rest rooms, and an outdoor park shelter with a fireplace.

Bidding for the general construction portion of the work ran from the low $16,810 to a high of $3,757 to a high of $5,679, the heating and ventilating bids ranged from the low $2,360 to a high of $4,750 and the electrical bids, of which there were two, were the low $1,122.95 and the high $1,279.

Alternate

Only one alternate was specified in the bidding, eliminating the hot water system. The town board decided, because of the low deductions, to include the hot water system.

The deductions for omitting the hot water ranged from $100 to $280.

A total of 21 firms submitted bids for the various portions of the project.

Driver Class Popular at AVS

178 Students From Xavier, FVL Enroll For Special Program

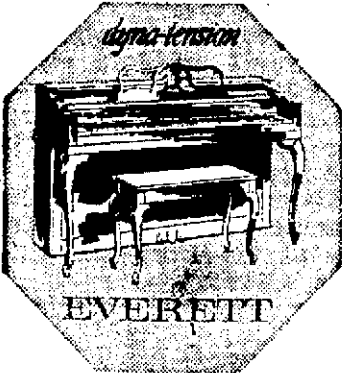

A total of 178 students from Xavier and Fox Valley Lutheran high schools have enrolled in the driver education course at the Appleton Vocational School.

The enrollment increased sharply from the 95 enrolled from the two schools last year, the first year the program was offered to students whose high schools do not give the classroom work.

The AVS program for high school students includes 30 hours of classroom instruction, six hours of driving observation and six hours of behind-the-wheel training. Appleton High School students receive the classroom work at the high school and take the behind-the-wheel training at the vocational school, in a cooperative program.

Speakers in the driver education program include Lt. John Gosch, traffic officer with the Appleton Police Department, who spoke this week on "Function of a Police Officer in Traffic," and Sergeant Lester Walsingham of the state patrol, who will speak June 6 on "What to Do If in an Accident or First at the Scene of an Accident."

Arnold Evans, an Appleton insurance agent, will speak on insurance June 18. Outagamie County Judge Gustave Keller will speak on "Law Enforcement and Traffic" on June 20.

Obese Teen-Agers Need More Exercise

Tubby Teen-ager: A Boston nutrition specialist finds obese teen-agers generally eat less than the non-obese.

They're fatter because they exercise less. Under-exercising rather than over-eating causes more obesity in the adolescent, says Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard.

It's erroneous that physical activity is self-defeating because it is always followed by a rise in appetite.

Caloric output in a teen-ager can be surprisingly high. Dancing uses 200 to 400 calories an hour; running 800 to 1,000; tennis, 400 to 500.

Appoint Chief For Twin City Sewage Plant

South Milwaukee Man to Succeed Arnold Sorenson

NEENAH — Vernon Zingsheim, sewerage system superintendent of South Milwaukee, has been named superintendent of the Neenah-Menasha sewerage treatment plant, it was announced today by William H. Clifford, chairman of the commission.

Zingsheim replaces Arnold N. Sorenson, who has reached retirement age under the State Municipal Employees Retirement Plan. The commission, however, plans to employ him as chief inspector during the construction of the secondary treatment plant.

Served Since 1937

Sorenson started as chief operator when the original plant was built in 1937 and was promoted to superintendent in 1951. He headed the activities of the 1957 expansion of the plant to include rubbish and garbage incineration, together with sewage solids incineration, making the Neenah-Menasha plant unique in the United States.

All other plants in the United States have the added expense of purchased fuel. "We are grateful that Mr. Sorenson's years of experience in the field of sewage treatment will not be lost to our communities," said Clifford.

Native of Lomira

The new superintendent, a native of Lomira, served in the Navy during World War I and was employed as a plumber for three years. His first experience with city sewage treatment plants was at the time of expansion and installation of secondary treatment. He has been superintendent of the South Milwaukee city sewerage system for the last 10 years with responsibility for operation of the plant, incinerator and sewer maintenance.

Zingsheim is married and has three children, all under 10. He plans to move his family here after school closes this spring.

Jitter-Joe Nine Beats DePere for Second Decision

MENASHA — Jitter's and Joe's bested Swan Club 7-1 at De Pere Thursday as Doug Wiatrowski tossed a four-hitter.

The Menashans, unbeaten in two starts, visit McMahon's at Luxemburg Sunday afternoon in quest of their third straight triumph.

Jitter's scored three runs in the first inning on a walk to Mike Rohe, Rufe Ihde's single and Tom Malchow's home run. Rohe walked to open the third and eventually scored the fourth run.

Two walks, Malchow's double, and Wiatrowski's single produced two more runs in the sixth and hits by Bill Lappen and Ken Reinert resulted in the final marker in the seventh.

Swan Club scored its lone run in the fourth on two hits. The other two safeties were spaced in the third and fifth frames. Wiatrowski set the side down in order in the final two innings.

Malchow's two hits led the Menashans' production of six. All of the blows came in innings when runs were tallied.

Dodgers Edge Pirates, 1-0, Behind Podres

Homers by Giants Stop Mets, 6-5; Cubs Blank Redlegs

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
For a guy without a store, Jim Gilliam is really giving everyone the business.

Gilliam, a sure-fingered infielder who loses his job every spring but winds up behind the counter once the rush season starts, scored the game's only run after rapping his third hit as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Pittsburgh 1-0 Thursday night and moved into second place in the National League.

A 34-year-old switch-hitter, Gilliam loses his job to the Dodgers' latest phenom almost every spring. This time he stayed in the back room while Nate Oliver took over at second base and the Dodgers experimented with Tommy Davis at third base.

Hit at .457
With that line-up, the Dodgers found business a bit slow, so in came Gilliam. In the last nine games, Gilliam has hit at a .457 clip and during that stretch the Dodgers have won seven games while climbing up the standings.

Gilliam got the Dodgers started against the Pirates with his third single and scored on Johnny Roseboro's two-out single in the ninth. Johnny Podres got the victory with a seven-hitter, leaving the Dodgers three games behind first-place San Francisco.

The Giants got two-run homers from Willie Mays and Willie McCovey and nipped the New York Mets 6-5. The third-place Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 2-0, Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 5-2, and Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2.

After Gilliam opened the winning Dodgers rally against Pirates' starter Don Schwall, he moved to second on a sacrifice by Ron Fairly and took third as Tommy Davis grounded out. Wally Moon then was purposely passed and Roseboro immediately crossed up the strategy.

It was Podres' first victory.

Braves Win Third Straight, Face Cubs

Lemaster Stops Cards On 8 Hits

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves boasted a three-game winning streak today as they invaded Chicago seeking vengeance for their humiliation by the Cubs in County Stadium earlier this month.

The Braves swept a three-game series with St. Louis by defeating the Cardinals 5-2 on southpaw Denny Lemaster's pitching and Eddie Mathews' three-run homer Thursday before a paid crowd of 3,931.

Then the Braves headed for Chicago for three meetings with the Cubs, who started Milwaukee's skid into the second division with victories May 3-4-5. Manager Bobby Bragan named right-hander Bob Shaw, loser of his only two decisions, to open the series and Lew Burdette and Warren Spahn to follow.

Struck Out Nine
Lemaster struck out nine and walked only two in earning his second victory in three decisions with an eight-hitter against the Cardinals. He lost a shutout bid on homers by Stan Musial and Gene Oliver in the ninth.

Mathews' homer capped a first-inning explosion which staked Lemaster to a 4-0 lead. The 24-year-old left-hander then was in complete command until he made a couple of bad pitches in the ninth.

Mack Jones led off the Braves' first with a single to center and moved to third as Frank Bolling lined a single to right center. Hank Aaron scored Jones with a pop fly hit to short right and Mathews followed with his fifth homer, a line shot into the right field bleachers.

The Braves added another run off St. Louis starter Ray Washburn in the fifth. With one out, Jones singled to center, stole second and continued on to third on a wild throw by the catcher. Oliver Jones slid across the plate safely ahead of a throw by shortstop Dick Groat, who fielded Bolling's grounder.

Washburn suffered the loss, his third straight after five victories in a row.

Mathews received a painful injury when struck on the right arm by a pitch from the right pitcher.

DAVENPORT, Ia. — Four base hits and an error gave Quad City three runs in the last of the ninth and a 3-2 Midwest League victory over the Fox Cities Foxes here Thursday night.

Two of the Angels' hits in the ninth were infield rollers, one which counted for the winning run.

Five Other Meets Will Begin Monday

District baseball action will begin Saturday on three area fronts with the ultimate goal of all participants being the state WIAA baseball tournament at Oshkosh early in June.

The Plainfield, Shawano and Stevens Point tournaments will start Saturday. The Chilton, Hortonville, Manawa, Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac tournaments will begin Monday.

Winners at all sites are to be determined by Friday. The Chilton district winner will meet the Oshkosh champion in the succeeding playoffs at a site and time agreeable to both teams.

Other playoff pairings are Hortonville-Manawa, Plainfield-Neshanicville, and Shawano-Oshkosh.

Red Sox Defeat Los Angeles, 3-0

Boston Moves Into AL Lead as Cleveland Edges White Sox, 5-4

BY BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The best strategy," Manager Johnny Pesky proclaimed, "is to have a 4-foot-4, 210-pounder step up to the plate, hope that he trips one—and he does."

So perhaps the Boston Red Sox manager was indulging in his favorite bit of deft maneuvering Thursday when, with two out, Lou Clinton doubled in two runs and put the Red Sox off and winging into the American League lead.

Red Sox right-hander Earl Wilson, stuck to an early lead, threw a two-hitter at Los Angeles and beat the Angels 3-0. When Cleveland edged Chicago 5-4 in a night game, the Red Sox took over the top spot .015 points ahead of the White Sox.

Blast Washington

Baltimore blasted Washington 9-1 in the only other American League game.

Pesky isn't complaining, but the Red Sox high standing has upset his timetable. He's running just about four years ahead.

"I'd like to have a first division finish," the crew-cut rookie manager said earlier this year. "I think that would really be accomplishing something."

"And if we could get a fourth place finish, then I'd like to see us climb one notch higher each year."

Wilson's masterpiece left the Red Sox no place to climb. He allowed only singles to George Thomas and Bob Rodgers, struck out six, and contributed a triple and a single as he came close to matching his no-hitter last year against the Angels. It was the Red Sox' fifth straight.

Drives in Four

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson drove in four runs and Jackie Brandt added three more as the Orioles blasted Washington and moved into third place, just one game back.

Robinson, who has hit safely in 13 consecutive games, had three singles.

Chuck Estrada won it, allowing only two hits before his elbow tightened, forcing him to quit in the sixth.

Max Alvis had a home run leading off the last of the ninth, breaking a 4-4 tie at Cleveland and dropping the White Sox into second place. The homer was the first run scored off relief ace Jim Brosnan in 7-23 innings since Chicago obtained him from Cincinnati.

Favor Candy Spots In Preakness Run

Never Bend Clocked in Record Time During Thursday Workout

BY GEORGE BOWEN
BALTIMORE (AP)—The itching period set in today for the trainers of eight 3-year-olds racing to go Saturday in what promises to be one of the spectaculars in the long history of the Preakness.
"All there is left to do now is walk him, gallop him Saturday morning, and then take him over there in the afternoon and wish him a speedy journey," summed up Woody Stephens, who trains Never Bend.
His work was over Thursday after Never Bend ran a practice 5/16ths of a mile that indicated the winner is going to have to do some fancy stepping.
It was a foregone conclusion that Never Bend would be away fast and probably would be the one that Chateaugay would have to catch again if he was going to duplicate his Kentucky Derby upset.
But either more speed abounds than suspected in the probable field or the Pimlico track is deceiving.

Rated Long Shots

Never Bend was timed in 58.25 seconds, three-fifths faster than the competitive track record. The record time was equaled in other workouts by Jacnot Stables' Country Squire and Mrs. Charles E. Morgan's Sky Wonder, who are rated long shots at best.

Their speedy trials opened the possibility that the early stages of the 1 3/16 mile race might not follow the expected pattern with Harry F. Guggenheim seeing his Never Bend out front from the start.
Stephens was ready for a switch in plans. He said he will instruct jockey Manuel Ycaza to let Never Bend break sharply as usual and then to take a look around.
"If some other colt in there has a rider that wants to scoot and boot, why then Manuel will take a hold and let that colt go on," Stephens said. "If not, we may have to make the lead."

7-5 Favorite

Besides John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, Never Bend's biggest concern about those behind him, according to the experts, will be Rev Ellsworth's Candy Spots. He was made the 7-5 favorite by the Pimlico handicapper, who was unconvinced by the third place Derby finish and first setback in seven races for Candy Spots.
Also looking for running room will be Michael and Jack Sten's On My Honor, T. D. Buhl's Lemon Twist and William B. Robinson's Rural Retreat.
If all eight do start, the winner will reap a reward of $127,500 leaving $30,000 for the runner-up, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth.
The track odds man rates Chateaugay and Never Bend even 5-2, choices behind Candy Spots. A poll of writers narrowly voted Never Bend an 11-10 winner over Candy Spots while Chateaugay received seven.

Xavier Enters State Net Tournament

Memorial of Waukesha Will Defend Title

Appleton Xavier and Champion, of Prairie du Chien, are expected to give Waukesha Catholic Memorial a stiff challenge for its 3-year state Catholic tennis title when the meet comes off at Wick Field and Washington Park in Milwaukee Saturday.
Milwaukee Marquette and Menasha St. Mary are also expected to provide some strong competition in the meet. Other teams entering are Oshkosh Lourdes, Beloit Catholic and Kenosha St. Joseph.
Memorial's Terry Cahill, Xavier's Warren "Kip" Whittinger and Champion's Jim Stanhaus and Bill Meis are the singles standouts.
Xavier will enter three other players, besides Whittinger. They are Paul Putzer, Gary Gundersen and Jim Thielman.

Decatur Halts Clinton's Win Streak at 12

Clinton's Midwest League winning streak was snapped at 12 by Decatur Thursday night, 3-0, in a game called at the end of six innings due to rain.
The Commodores' Bob Musante, who defeated the Foxes and Bernie Van Remmen, 2-1, last Sunday limited the C-Sox to two safe-ties. A former University of Illinois hurler, Jerry Rozmus, suffered the loss.
Dubuque's Tom Kelley slammed the door on Burlington, 4-0, with just six hits.
Wisconsin Rapids scored an 8-6 triumph over Waterloo while Cedar Rapids and Quincy were rained out from the very beginning.

Ranch Bar and Rich's Score Softball Wins

KAUKAUNA — Rich's Bar pounded out an 11-8 win over Verbeten's Bowling, and Ranch Bar edged Powers' Pub 4-2 in Tavern League play Wednesday night.
Four errors and five singles enabled Rich's to tally seven runs in the sixth inning to clinch the victory. Verbeten's tallied a run in the second and five in the fourth including a base-clearing homer by Ron Ralph.
Ranch Bar scored two runs in the second on two singles and an error and added two in the third on back-to-back triples by Joe Mathis and Chuck Damiro and a single Powers' scored a run in the fifth on an error, a holders' choice and two singles and added another in the sixth on two errors and a single.

Holds No Resentment

Symank Says He Asked Vince to be Traded

HILBERT—Former Green Bay Packer defensive star John Symank said he held no resentment against Packer Head Coach Vince Lombardi as a result of the recent trade which sent him to the New York Giants.
Symank, speaking to reporters after completing his guest speaker role at the Hilbert High School athletic banquet this week at the Darby Club, said he had, in fact, asked Lombardi to be traded. Symank said he had hoped to go to the Dallas team where he felt he had a better chance of playing regularly.

A pro football coach can't be sentimental about players, Symank said, citing the Baltimore Colts as an example. He added that there may be some more trades before this year's rookies are through.
Symank said he was perfectly happy during his six years with the Packers. A desire to play regularly prompted him to make the trade request after he lost his starting role in the defensive backfield last season.

High Esteem

Unlike his former teammate, Bill Quinlan, who blasted Lombardi in a Pro Football Illustrated story after being involved in the same trade, Symank held the Packer mentor in high esteem. He attributed much of the Packer success to Lombardi's ability to make adjustments and also credited the coach's emphasis on fundamentals of the game with being an important chapter in the Packer success story.
Symank said he plans to return to Green Bay in the off season because of his job.

In his message to the students and athletes, Symank outlined the rigid training routine which is followed to prepare the team for each contest and gave the fans some insight on the Packer signal calling system.

He told the athletes to set their standards high for the coming sports campaigns. Don't be satisfied that your football team was runnerup and your basketball team took a co-championship this year, go after the championships again next year, he said.

Athletes develop character and sportsmanship which will aid the individual later in life, Symank said. He also cautioned the athletes not to forego the classroom for the sports field.

Intelligence and knowledge are important qualifications for an athlete to go with his physical attributes, Symank commented.

Yugoslav Team Upsets U. S. Cagers, 75-53

Americans Have Five More Games Left in 7-Nation World Meet

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The United States, undisputed king of basketball at Olympic Time, found itself backed to the wall once again in the World Tournament today.

An aggressive Yugoslav team trading most of the first half, stormed back for a 75-73 upset over the Americans Thursday night as the seven-nation championship round robin competition began.

Although the U.S. has five more games in the showdown, Russia and defending champion Brazil have assumed the favorite's roles everyone had reserved for the Americans.

Russia opened with a 58-48 victory over France, displaying powerful board strength. The Brazilians, who finished second to the U.S. in the recent Pan American Games, spilled Puerto Rico 62-53.

Free throw shooting made the difference in the Yugoslavia-U.S. game. The winners hit on 17 of 20 while the Americans could manage only 7 of 18. Jerry Shipp and Don Kops of the Bartlesville Oilers scored 23 and 19 points, respectively, but it wasn't enough for the Americans who were unable to check the Yugoslav rally triggered by Zvonko Petuchevich and Josip Djerdja.

Bleier Rips Subway; Adler Brau and Northside Also Win

Bleier's walloped Subway, 14-1, while Adler Brau and Northside Advancement squeezed out 5-4 victories over St. Theresa and Plattville trailed by one point and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee by two in one of the closest finishes in history.
The state college tennis meet will be held at Oshkosh Saturday with host Oshkosh seeking its fifth title in six years. La Crosse is the only team to interrupt the Titans' victory string, winning the championship in 1961.
La Crosse gained for its fourth straight conference championship in the golf meet which opened today at the Lawsonia course in Green Lake. The Indians have captured the team crown in six of the last seven meets, determined on the low scores for 36 holes over two days.

Northwestern Leads Big Ten Tennis Tourney

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern swept all of its singles players and all three doubles teams into today's semifinals to take a commanding lead in the three-day Big Ten tennis tournament.
The Wildcats compiled 31 points in Michigan, seeking an unprecedented fifth straight crown, was second with 24 after qualifying for seven places for the semifinals.
Michigan State was third with 17 points, followed by Purdue with 15, Indiana 14, Iowa 13, Illinois 7, Ohio State 3, Wisconsin 2 and Minnesota 0.
Northwestern's Marty Riessen, defending conference singles champion, advanced through the preliminaries handily and will surance, tallies in the fifth and meet Iowa's Steve Wilkinson today. The other No. 1 singles was for the winners giving up match. Michigan's Ray Senkowi, the 1961 champion, faces Indiana's Gary Baxler.

Three WSCC Meets Set For Weekend

Track, Tennis and Golf Titles to be Decided at 3 Sites

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wisconsin State College Conference titles will be decided this weekend in track, tennis and golf at three sites.
SCC track records are in danger in the track competition at Whitewater Saturday as eight conference standards have been bettered in early spring meets.
La Crosse will shoot for its second straight track and field title. Last year the Indians piled up 44 1/2 points in winning the title. Plattville trailed by one point and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee by two in one of the closest finishes in history.

Gertz Bar Posts 32-0 Victory

KAUKAUNA — Gertz Bar needed only five innings to storm to a 32-0 win over Jerry and Doc's Bar in a Tavern League game Tuesday night. The second game was a little more respectable with Kappell's Bar downing Peters' Tavern 6-1 in a normal 7-inning fray.
Gertz used 16 players in the massacre as the men grew tired of running the bases. The team managed 24 hits including three homers. The losers were limited to three safeties.
Kappell's scored single runs in the first and second inning to clinch the victory and added in preliminary runs in the fifth and seventh. Lou Kappell went all the way for the winners giving up match. Michigan's Ray Senkowi, the 1961 champion, faces Indiana's Gary Baxler.

Minding Your Business

ANNUAL REPORTS GRAB AN OSCAR FOR BOREDOM

DEAR CY: You will agree that when skill falls short, technique can bridge the gap to success. Mickey Spillane with his poor writing and blood-and-sex technique is a good example. Not being a great writer who can live by the pen, I want to rely on techniques I can sell. What do you feel offers the best opportunity for me in writing?

PERSIMMON
DEAR PERSIMMON: Beyond a smattering of doubt, the most widely unread literature of our time is the annual report. After the great shearing of 1929 to 1932, the Securities Commission began action to insure every corporation listed on some public board reveal its business and financial affairs annually. This is now law, and the paper quagmire of financial jargon undulating our mails is directed to over 18 million shareholders. Estimates of how much of this expensive pulp goes unread range from 35 per cent to my own figure of 50 per cent. You writing future could lie in helping companies construct readable, interesting annual reports. Tie in with a printing firm and art studio, possibly. If you choose to take a short cut to money, you may want to investigate the annual report service of the Bentill Press at 493 C Street, Boston. This firm publishes unique, colorful, 20-page annual reports for banks. Though profusely illustrated, the words and music are missing. Representatives sell the semi-blank reports in quantity to financial institutions. Facts and figures and descriptive writing are dubbed in. Bentill is the only firm I know exploiting opportunities in the annual report field. In this way. Perhaps you can create a profitable angle of your own.

DEAR CY: I am the woman who wrote you asking for advice in dealing with a mail order firm which owed me money for over a year. The money was paid, but no merchandise received. I did exactly what you said and most certainly got an answer. As I sit here writing you, I am gazing at a check which just arrived. Thank you for your excellent counsel.

DEAR FRED: You are the one to be congratulated! You kept complete records of dealings with the firm and handed the attorney general information he needed to create a cyclone. When dealing in business matters, keeping complete records is vital.

DEAR CY: The lady who asked you about renting a garage apartment owes you a debt of gratitude. I'm sure I was also interested in buying some property with a house and garage on it. As you suggested to this woman, I had a lawyer.

Betty White, Allen Ludden To Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Betty White, much in demand as a panelist in various and assorted games shows, and Allen Ludden, host on CBS' "Password," are planning to be married in Las Vegas on June 14.

Apparently romance finally bloomed on a panel show—but in truth "Password" had little or nothing to do with it.

Betty, a husky and dedicated bachelor girl from Los Angeles, actually met Allen for the first time well over a year ago when she was a guest celebrity on his show.

"But I didn't see her after that," explained the bespectacled master of games. "It really happened last summer when our respective agents got together and booked us to play in 'Critics Choice.'"

Their first date came when "Password" was originating briefly in Hollywood. Allen and Betty, chaperoned by their agents, had a business dinner together—and then attended a performance of "Critics Choice."

Betty and Allen, after a week-end honeymoon, plunge right in a busy season of summer theatre. They'll play together in a straw hat version of "Brigadoon" (Allen Ludden sings? "Yes," said Betty, "and very nicely, too.") Betty will be busily filling commitments she made months ago, before the sound of wedding bells was in the air, including a period starring in "The King and I" in St. Louis.

Allen is a widower with three children—two girls and a boy.

Lawrence Musicians To Give Jazz Concert

13-Piece Ensemble to Play Music In Style of Great Band Leaders

"Jazz Spectrum," a concert-survey of the great jazz styles of the 20th century, will be presented Friday, May 24, by Lawrence College student musicians in Stansbury Theater. Showtime is 7:30 p.m.

The Lawrence chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity, is the program sponsor.

Bandsmen from the fraternity and college will form a 13-piece ensemble to play the music of Benny Goodman, Stan Kenton, Tommy Dorsey, Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller, Count Basie and others.

Robert Clark, Lawrence Conservatory sophomore from Waukesha, is founder and leader of the group. He states, "Our idea is to demonstrate that the college's jazz talent is on par with professional musicians, that we can blow 'cool music' as well as the classical styles with which we are usually involved."

To lend program variety the fraternity has arranged for additional attractions to accompany the band's presentation. Among them will be a folk-singing group called "The Hungry Trio."

Ensemble Members

Their ensemble will consist of four saxophones, four trombones, four trumpets and drums. All the musicians except Miller, Neau and Walrath are members of the music fraternity.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia presents an annual program of contemporary American music.

Clark is president of the chapter. Other chapter officers are: Bruce Feldt, vice president, sophomore from Kenosha; Schulze, secretary; Joel White, treasurer, sophomore from Waukegan, Ill.; and Tirk, chapter historian. The group's faculty advisor is Paul Hollinger, Lawrence associate professor of music.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from members of the fraternity and at Belling Pharmacy.

Battle Over Teen Beer Age to Shift

Bill Passes Senate on Voice Vote

MADISON (AP)—A fight over raising the minimum age for buying beer will shift to the Assembly following Senate action Thursday in which a bill to set the age at 19 was passed on a voice vote.

The vote climaxed six hours of debate on three measures affecting the present age limit of 18. Two measures favoring a statewide minimum of 21 years were killed.

The successful bill goes to the Assembly with an amendment that retains the present local option under which municipalities may by ordinance set a higher limit.

An interim study committee headed by Sen. Earl Morton, R-Kenosha, had hoped to achieve a statewide uniform age of 19 by removing local option.

About 60 per cent of the state population is located in areas with a 21-year-old law, Milwaukee is the largest of these areas.

Highway Accidents
The uniform proposal was advanced as a means of reducing highway accidents by young people.

Sen. Ernest Keppler, R-Sheboygan, told the Senate that present law creates a situation where teen-agers "risk their lives on the road driving to spots where they can get beer."

And Sen. Allen Bushy, R-Milwaukee, asked the lawmakers to get behind a 21-year-old minimum and "stop drenching the highways with the blood of our youth and innocent people."

One of the 21-year-old bills which would have "phased out" the present law over a four year period, actually received preliminary approval but then was killed on reconsideration.

Sen. Norman Sussman, D-Milwaukee, talked long and loud for keeping the present 18-year-old law.

He argued that better law enforcement is the way to cut highway accidents and asked the Senate not to "take everything away from our young people."

Sen. Richard Zabnerski, D-Milwaukee, called the beer age increase proposals a move toward prohibition.

But when all the votes were in neither side had gained a victory.

The beer industry, which maintains one of the strongest lobbies in the Legislature, lost 18-year-olds as customers and almost lost 19 and 20-year-olds as well. Proponents of uniformity, on the other hand, saw the age gap narrowed but were denied the statewide standard they sought.

In a late Assembly session preliminary approval was given a bill that would pay towns 30 cents an acre for land removed from the tax rolls for forest, hunting and fishing grounds. The money would go to school districts and represents an effort to compensate areas for loss of tax base when the state buys large tracts of land.

The bill now goes to the Joint Finance Committee.

Birth Control Bill Comes Under Fire

Measure Called an Attack on Natural Law Before Hearing

MADISON (AP) — A bill proposing to give birth control advice and devices to women on relief at state expense, was called "foreign to Wisconsin decency" and "an attack on natural law" at a hearing before the Senate Public Welfare Committee Thursday.

Msgr. Edward M. Kinney of Madison, representing the state Provincial Conference of the Roman Catholic Church, said the measure should also be called "political and social harassment" rather than "planned parenthood."

"The do-seeing of unfortunate women is not humane but criminal," he said.

Sen. Davis Donnelly, D-Eau Claire, is author of the controversial birth control bill. It would permit married or single women on relief rolls to get birth control information or contraceptives at state expense.

Washington May be Easing Alabama Vigil

Sheriff Reports That Authorities Worried About This Weekend

BIRMINGHAM Ala. (AP)—The federal government shows signs of relaxing its vigil in Birmingham's racial situation and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's adviser on civil rights has returned to Washington.

Sheriff Melvin Bailey said however, the authorities are apprehensive about the weekend. A 24-hour guard has been posted throughout the area of last week's rioting. About 200 heavily armed state patrolmen and conservation department officers are patrolling a 24-square block area.

"It's an uneasy quiet," Bailey said. "The weekend will cause more concern. It will be a critical period."

No Plans to Return
Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, who went back to Washington Thursday, said he has no plans to return to this racially troubled city immediately. He said he believes the situation will be calmed through the cooperation of Birmingham people. Marshall was accompanied by an aide, Ed Gullman.

A deputy attorney general, Joseph Dolan, remained in Birmingham.

About 3,000 riot-trained soldiers are standing by at bases in Alabama, where they were ordered by President Kennedy after bloody rioting in Birmingham last weekend.

Alabama's fiery segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, who challenged the President's right to send in the troops may meet Kennedy in North Alabama Saturday. Wallace hasn't committed himself, but sources close to the governor say he is expected to be on hand when the President takes part in a Tennessee Valley Authority observance.

Donnelly told the committee he took exception to remarks that the bill would "subsidize immorality," he said spiraling relief costs had prompted introduction of the measure.

Immoral Atmosphere
"It is far better to provide birth control in this area than to raise children in an immoral atmosphere," the Senator said, adding:

"This bill also would stop irresponsible reproduction that is breaking the taxpayer."

George Rice, representing the Milwaukee County Legislative Committee, gave Donnelly vigorous support.

He said illegitimate birth referrals to the County Welfare Department had increased about 400 per cent—from 300 cases in 1952 to 1,600 last year.

Legislators must meet this problem, Rice said, and suggested that the Donnelly proposal would be the most direct way.

Dr. Alfred W. Swan of the First Congregational Church in Madison also supported the bill but said he does not approve of providing birth control advice to the unwed.

David L. Sewall, University of Wisconsin student from Menasha opposed the bill on grounds there are other means of curbing rising relief costs. He suggested setting limits on aid might be a wiser solution.

Busy Days Lie Ahead

Anxious Watching, Waiting Now Ended for Proud Cooper Family

BY B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The anxious watching and waiting have ended for astronaut Gordon Cooper's proud family but busy days are ahead for Trudy Cooper and her teen-age daughters.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls Camala, 14, and Janita, 13, were to fly to Hawaii today for a rendezvous with America's newest space hero.

On Monday they will accompany Cooper to Washington to be received in the White House Rose Garden by President Kennedy after, perhaps, a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

President Kennedy placed a telephone call to the Cooper home just minutes after Cooper's Faith 7 capsule splashed down into the Pacific yesterday.

"He wished us well and invited us to be in Washington on Monday," Mrs. Cooper said. "We plan to be there."

Mrs. Cooper, Cam and Jan held a brief news conference Thursday night 20 minutes after Cooper was safely aboard the USS Kearsarge after his historic 22-orbit flight.

The conference broke up when word came Cooper was waiting to talk to his wife and daughters by radio-telephone from the Kearsarge.

No Details
Details of the conversations were not revealed but Mrs. Cooper sent this message to the newsmen: "It was a good connection." "We are a very proud family tonight," Mrs. Cooper said after walking from the brick and stone house where she and the girls had remained throughout the flight. "She thanked newsmen for their 'patience the past two days'."

Some 300 persons were on hand when the family appeared before newsmen and photographers who had waited in the street in front of the house more than 34 hours.

"I felt very calm and confident," Mrs. Cooper said when asked how she reacted to news of a malfunction aboard the Faith 7 had forced her husband to use hand controls while preparing for the capsule's splash in the Pacific.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls had watched the recovery on one of the four television sets in the house. With them were the wives of four other astronauts—Donald K. Slayton, Virgil I. Grissom, Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Alan B. Shepard Jr.

Cam and Jan, standing on each side of their mother, denied they had been nervous during the flight.

"I was not nervous," said Cam. "I knew he could do well," she added.

Jan Confident
"I was confident," said Jan, who was wearing a white and brown dress.

Asked at what point of the flight was she the most nervous, Mrs. Cooper replied:

"I think the launch is the time when everyone is the most apprehensive."

Mrs. Cooper, a pretty brunette, and dressed in a coral fitted princess line dress, appeared a bit nervous at the beginning of the news conference but the nervousness seemed to have ended by the time it ended.

She laughingly said the news conference was "really the worst part."

She said she and her daughters slept well Wednesday night—without the aid of sleeping pills.

She repeated that the family "was very disappointed" at Tuesday's postponement of the flight.

The Coopers began removing luggage from closets early Thursday for the trip to Hawaii but waited until after the astronaut's safe recovery before packing.

Hawaii will be something of a homecoming for the Coopers. Gordon Cooper and Trudy Cooper met and married while students at the University of Hawaii.

Attorney Locates His Wartime Godmother; Looked 20 Years

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Twenty years ago an army captain was kissed on both cheeks by his godmother who then rode away on her bicycle down a dusty street of Goat hill, a village in Algeria.

The officer, Reynolds (Pete) Rodgers, now an attorney and director of Kansas City's Human Relations Commission, never heard from her again until a few days ago.

But to start at the beginning: Rodgers had fought through the North African and Sicilian campaigns of World War II and had gone back to North Africa to prepare for the Italian campaign. He figured he had a good chance to be killed. So did his buddy, Capt. Elmer Metzner, from Rodgers' hometown of Erie, Pa. Metzner urged Rodgers to be baptized.

At St. Leu, otherwise known as Goat hill, the two officers went to the Church De Saint Leu. Metzner said he would act as godfather but the priest said there must also be a godmother. He stopped a young woman who came peddling along on her bicycle. The woman, Henriette Ouvre, said she would be honored to serve.

When it was over, she cried, kissed her godson and rode away. Rodgers and Metzner went to Italy with the 36th Infantry Division. They survived the Rapido River campaign and Rodgers got a Silver Star medal. When they got to Germany, Metzner was killed by a mortar burst.

Last fall Rodgers got to thinking about Henriette. He wrote to Military Ordinate, a Catholic organization in New York, which took up the search.

A few days ago Rodgers got a letter from his godmother. She is now in Strasbourg, France, a refugee from North Africa. "I had not forgotten you," she wrote, "and in my prayers I thought each day of you." Rodgers is thinking of ways he might help his godmother financially.

Failure to attain the existing white standards would create serious psychological problems of frustration on the part of the Negro child which would require compensation via tension-creating anti-social behavior. In other circumstances, this effect has created serious discipline problems for the teachers and school administrators, with consequent loss of school time. In New York, 37 percent of Negro truants questioned in a study stated that they had run away from home because of failure to keep up in school.

ularly harmful in the early formative school years. Intervenor witnesses noted that integration at the collegiate level is not only possible, but on a voluntary basis might be of advantage to both white and Negro students. The findings herein are accordingly limited to children of primary and secondary school ages.

The court further ruled that "segregative integration would cause even greater psychological harm to the individual Negro children involved and to the balance of their group."

The intervenors in the current case charged in their brief before the court in Savannah that one expert who had testified in the 1954 school desegregation case was on the payroll of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and that this was not revealed to the Supreme Court. The brief contended also that the court was not told that the same expert had earlier conducted tests which produced a different finding from that which he submitted to the court.

Judge Scarlett's conclusions in the Savannah case are as follows:

"1. The white and Negro school children have equivalent rights before this court and are equally entitled to be considered in determining the scope and content of constitutional rights.

"2. A reasonable classification within the meaning of the equal protection clause of the Constitution would be one which secures to the individual Negro children the maximum result in the educational process for all students and a minimum injury to any.

"3. The classification of children in the Savannah, Chatham County, schools by division on the basis of coherent groups having distinguishing, educability capabilities is such a reasonable classification."

The decision of the 1954 desegregation case by the Supreme Court turned largely on allegations that Negro children were untold that the same expert had earlier conducted tests which produced a different finding from in integrated schools they will get even less of an education. For the tests showed the average of white pupils was far above the Negro average. The findings on this point are described in Judge Scarlett's statement as follows:

"These differences in test results, Savannah, Chatham County, are not the result of the educational system or of the social or economic differences in status or in environment of the students."

Court Injects New Aspect in Desegregation

Suggests Schools Could Legally Set Admission Tests

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The "law of the land" can be a federal statute or any provision of the Constitution, but a supreme court decision is "the law of the case" and holds good only for the facts and circumstances set forth in that particular case.

This differentiation now takes on new significance because of a decision just rendered by U.S. District Judge Frank M. Scarlett. He has ruled in a case tried at Savannah, Ga., that integration of the public schools can be harmful to both Negroes and whites, and that the evidence on which the Supreme Court of the United States based its decision in 1954 ordering desegregation of public schools was not supported even by tests previously made by one expert in the psychological field who had testified that seg-

World Leaders Hail Cooper as Hero; Doctors Laud His Physical Condition

Flight May Speed Landing on Moon

Astronaut Woozy at Landing But Called Entirely Normal

BY RALPH DIGHTON
ABOARD USS KEARSARGE
 (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper was merely a bit woozy when he finished a 34-hour trip into space—and thereby may have hastened the day when man lands on the moon.

Cooper, 36, expressed confidence that "We have learned a lot from this mission for future, more extended space operations."

The spaceman's perilous descent to his exactly predicted impact point 96 miles southeast of Midway Island Thursday afternoon was full of drama and heroism. But his physical condition was what most pleased space agency doctors examining him today.

Jobless and Jobs Increase

Employment During April Sets New Record in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's jobless rate edged upward last month despite new highs in employment and industrial production.

Thus, the economy continued to present a bitterly paradoxical picture. Business growing stronger, more Americans at work than ever before and joblessness persistently and stubbornly high.

On the bright side: The Labor Department reported over-all employment at a new record level of 68.9 million. The Federal Reserve Board reported the output of this longest American of mines, mills and factories at a record 122.4 per cent of the 1957-58 average.

On the gloomy side: Joblessness stands at 5.7 per cent, a small increase from the 5.6 per cent of March.

Payrolls Climb
 Other figures released Thursday by the department and the reserve board:

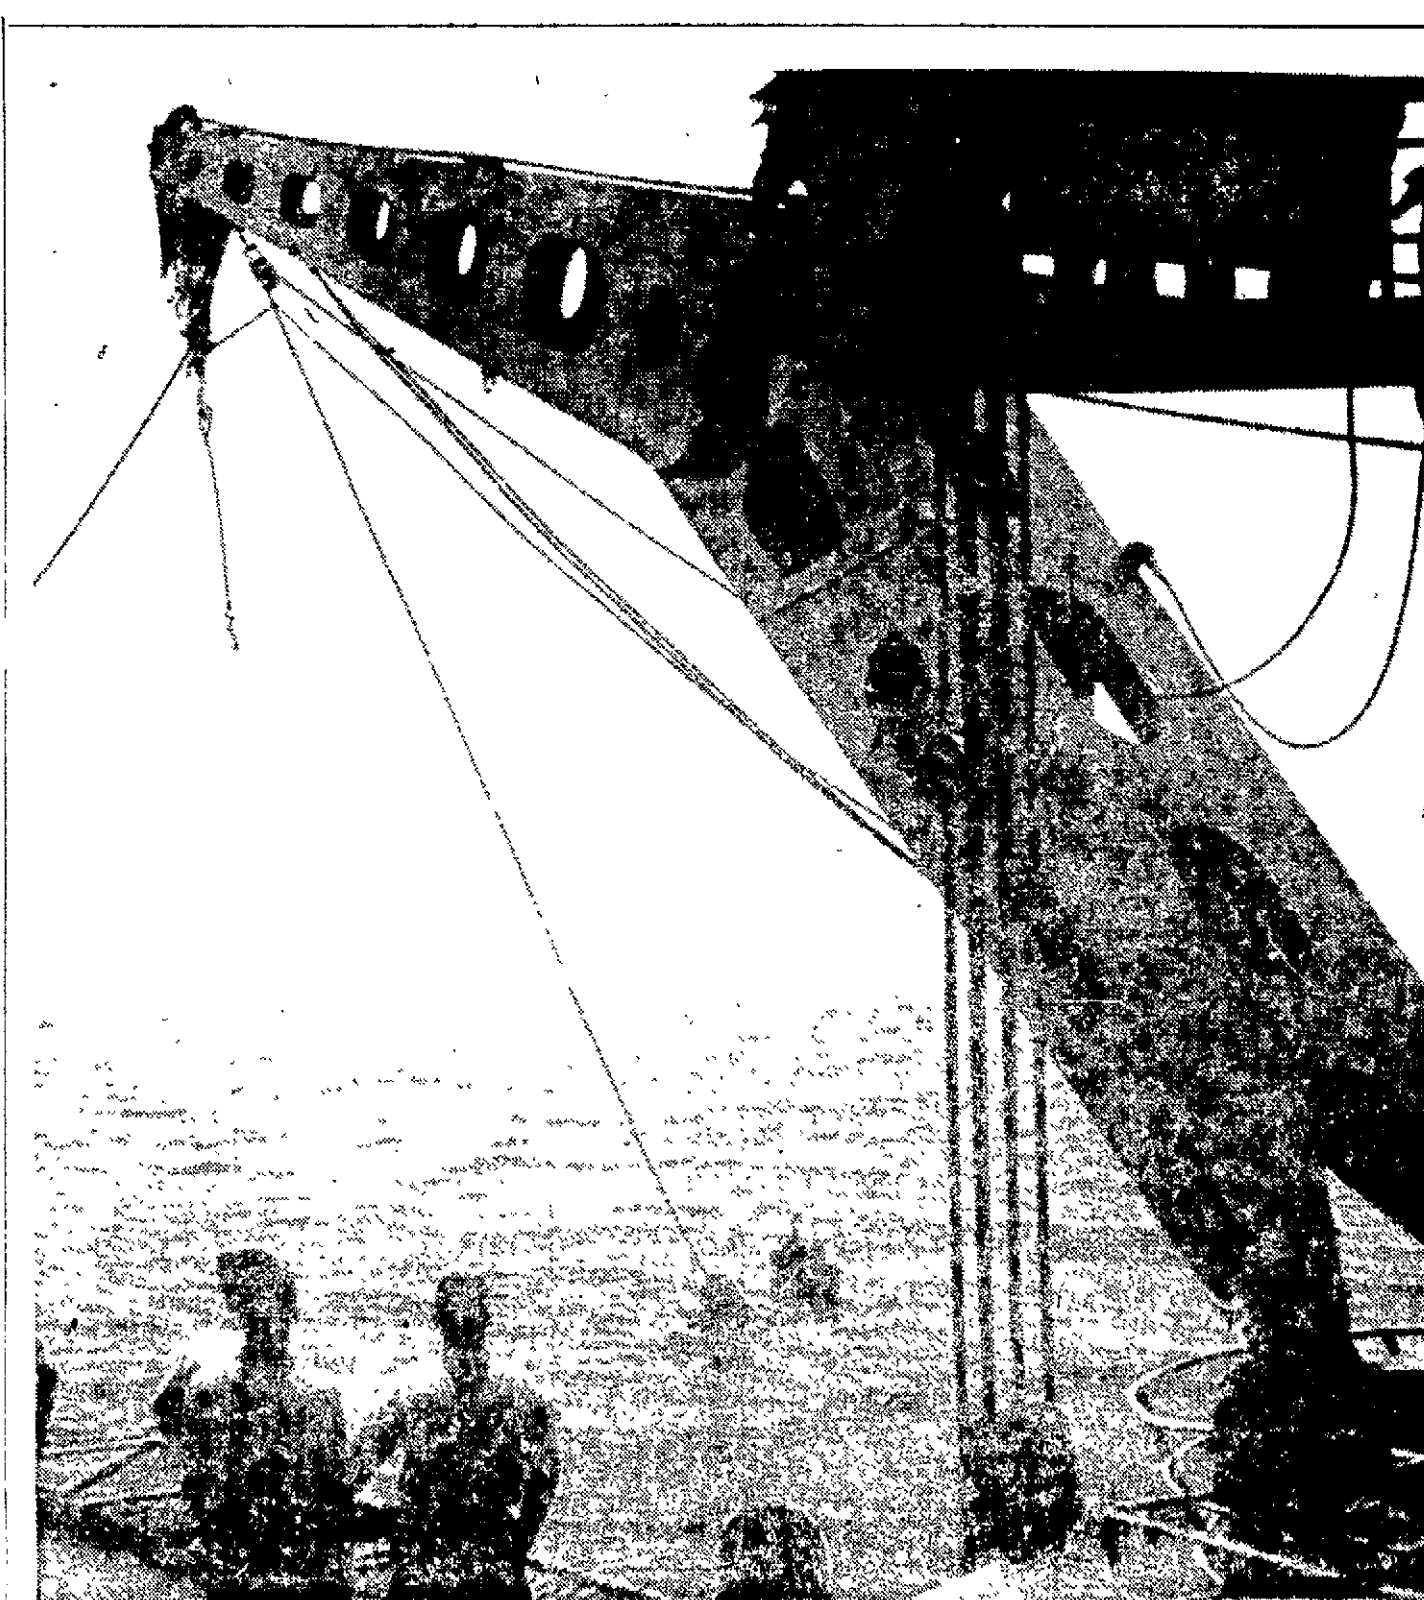

April non-farm payrolls climbed by 800,000 to lift the job total to a record 55.9 million—a substantially better than seasonal job expansion" according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Over-all unemployment dropped 40,000 to 4.1 million, a largely seasonal decline.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate showed an increase because of the great number of Americans joining the labor market.

Increases in factory and contract construction payrolls were noted. Factory jobs bucked the usual March to April decline, edging ahead 100,000 to 16.7 million. Contract construction jobs outdistanced the usual seasonal gain, rising 260,000 to 2.5 million for the first marked advance in this field in nine months.

The Commerce Department reported that retail trade for the week ended May 11 was an estimated $4.8 billion, up 1 per cent from the preceding week and 3 per cent from the comparable week of 1962.

Relaxed Most of Time

Cooper Termed 'Magnificent' in Facing Challenge Before Landing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—For some 29 hours, astronaut Gordon Cooper was a man waiting for a challenge. It came and he met it magnificently.

This is the story of a relaxed man—a man who can catch a catnap a hundred miles above the earth between jobs—and the story of that man in space.

"It was indeed a magnificent performance, Gordon was on top of the flight all the time. He was acting perfectly as a human computer."

That was the statement of Cooper's fellow astronaut, Alan B. Shepard Jr., as he sat later in the glare of camera lights and tried to put into words just what Cooper had done.

It began with a scrub that everyone agreed was a useful

But then it happened. Cooper saw it on his instrument panel. The green light was on—indicating his spacecraft had encountered the "first smudge" of gravity force, something that should not have happened until he was re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

And Cooper still had about two orbits of his 22-orbit flight left. He reported the trouble to Hawaii on his 19th orbit—and below him a worldwide network of men, electronic machines and experience took the shock and looked for the answer.

The decision came in five minutes, Shepard said later. But there still was time and the men on the ground could check and be sure Operations Director Walter C. Williams said space technicians went into a hangar, reconstructed

Khrushchev Voices Warm Praise; Europeans Tense Until He Lands in Safety

BY ANTHONY WHITE
 LONDON (AP)—The cool courage, iron nerve and skill of astronaut Gordon Cooper aroused the wonder and astonishment of Western Europe today.

World leaders—including Soviet Premier Khrushchev—cabled congratulations to President Kennedy. Khrushchev saluted the "Courageous American astronaut" and said his flight had "made a new contribution to the exploration of the expanses of the universe."

Through the evening and into the early morning Europeans followed the last tension-packed hours of his voyage.

In cities and towns across Western Europe they followed the thrilling story on radio and television links with Cape Canaveral and the carrier Kearsarge.

London Headlines
 Today the story was spread across the front pages.

"Gordon does it by the seat of his pants," trumpeted the London Daily Mirror.

"Glorious splashdown!" the Daily Herald cried.

"All By Himself!" ran a Daily Mail banner.

The admiration was accompanied by relief that he had made it down safely after the worry when technical failure in the capsule forced him to drive the thing down himself.

Millions of Europeans shared the tension-crowded moments. On television hookups via the Telstar 2 and relay satellites they heard Mercury Control's report as Cooper fired his reverse rockets and moved the capsule into its re-entry position.

Across continental Europe local commentators translated the Mercury Control reports as Cooper made his descent.

Learn of Safety
 Then came the word his parachute had opened, he was sighted. He was coming down. Then the word they had been waiting for—he was down, safe and triumphant.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos were among the first to send congratulations to Kennedy.

The foreign minister of the newest member of the United Nations, Sheikh Sabah Al-Salem Al-Sabah of Kuwait, interrupted a reception in New York in his honor to congratulate Adlai E. Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Soviets heard brief reports of the flight in early morning radio newscasts. But news of the successful completion came too late for Moscow morning newspapers to print it.

German Comment
 A young Russian woman, told on her way to work that the astronaut had landed, said: "I am

Cheers Sound In Washington For Astronaut

Kennedy, Johnson Hail Progress in U. S. Space Program

BY HARRY KELLY
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital rang with praise for the new hero in America's space adventures.

"The magnificent flight of Faith 7 with the intrepid Gordon Cooper at the controls is a shining star in our national space program," declared Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

And over radio and television, President Kennedy told the country that "peace has her victories as well as war and this was one of the victories for the human spirit today."

The victory did not come easy. There was worry. In the halls of government, the men and women listened to news bulletins on his progress. Messengers brought word to the floors of the Senate and House.

Extend Congratulations
 "We all have been sweating out Maj. Cooper's safe return to earth," said House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck.

The Senate, working late on a feed grains bill, broke into applause when word came that Cooper had plunked safely into the Pacific.

Then all 100 senators joined in a resolution of congratulations and another long round of applause.

The resolution was a bipartisan

Sen. Kennedy's Wife Suffers Miscarriage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts senator, was resting at home today after losing her expected baby by miscarriage.

Jean Bennett Kennedy, 26, suffered the miscarriage on Tuesday, but it was not confirmed until Thursday by the senator's office.

The senator, 30, brother of President Kennedy, and his blonde wife have two other children, Kara, 3, and Edward M. Jr., who will be 2 in September.

Their third child had been expected in late August or early September.

Feed Grains Bill Given Approval In Senate, 45-35

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats have given President Kennedy a major farm program victory, passing the administration's feed grains control bill before a nationwide wheat controls referendum comes up for a vote.

Seventeen Republican amendments designed to delay final passage of the bill were beaten back before the Senate Thursday night stamped a 45-35 vote of approval on continuing voluntary controls over corn and livestock feed grains for the next two years. Both Wisconsin senators voted for passages.

In a last-minute move of desperation the Republicans tied their hopes for delay on a typographical error, but the Senate voted 43 to 34 to have its clerk make the correction, as usual.

Since no change was made in the version already passed by the House, the bill goes to the President—probably on Monday—for his expected signing into law.

2 Pilots Involved North Koreans Report U. S. Army Copter Forced Down by Gunfire

BY CHARLES S. CHIN
 SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—U.N. Command requested that Communist North Korea return the two pilots ground forces fired on and forced down a U. S. Army helicopter today just north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The Reds said the plane was damaged badly.

No Word on Pilots
 There was no announcement of the fate of the two American pilots.

The disclosure that the helicopter was brought down by gunfire was made by the senior North Korean delegate to the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command had told the commission earlier that the helicopter made an emergency landing on the north side of the Han River estuary, in Red territory 17

Cloud told the Communists the violation of North Korean territory was unintentional.

Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-wan, the chief North Korean delegate, retorted that the flight over Red soil was "part of the U.S. imperialists' hostile activities in Korea." He said such experienced pilots could not have made a navigational error.

Cloud replied that in the past the U.N. command has admitted frankly any violation by its forces of the armistice agreement. He said the command would take appropriate measures to punish the two pilots as specified by the armistice agreement if it was proved they had erred.

encouraged a few young men to investigate different sites for a ski hill. A site known as Hogs- back Hill was chosen, and im- mediate work was started on clearing the land. The first project was the construction of a wooden ski scaffold.

First Tourney
The first ski tournament was conducted in February, 1938, with seven members entering. Class C entries were Wayne Helgeson, Lee Nelson, and Gilman Colrud. Entered in Class B were Hilmar Solberg, Richard Loope, Robert Grant and Arnold Hegeson. Jud- ging the underrun in the Junior Class were John Guillion, 5 and Phillip Strand, 7. Due to the fi- nancial status of the club, prizes were awarded only to the two young riders.

Poultry and trap shoots were activities also put on by the club to increase their funds necessary to get started.

In comparing the facilities the club offers spectators today to what it offered then, Helgeson said its first hamburger stand was constructed of slab wood. A club house was completed during the summer of 1938.

Continuous improvements were made on the hill, including the erection of a steel scaffold in 1945.

The high point of activities was reached Feb. 26, 1950, when the National Ski Jumping Tourna- ment was held there. Previous tournaments included state, 1946, and a tri-state, 1947. Tournaments were annual events with the ex- ception of 1943 and 1944.

Buy Farm
In 1957, a 126-acre farm north- west of Iola was purchased as a permanent winter sports site. A jumping tournament has been held there since 1959, although the scaffold was not completed.

Improvements completed in- clude underhill, construction of a two lane stairway on the scaffold, finishing the far end of the out- run for skier safety and construc- tion of a warming house. A jun- ior slide has been added. The first tournament was staged there in February.

To encourage youngsters in ski- ing, the club has built two por- table scaffolds. One is at the vil- lage park and the other in Scan- dinavia.

Presidents for the club since its organization include Helgeson, Ingal Olson, Chester Krause, and Everett Aasen, present president.

Mid-Eastern Group Discusses Plans for Festivals, Schedules

NEW LONDON — Administra- tors and band instructors from schools of the Mid-Eastern Con- ference held an organizational meeting at the Rainbow Supper Club here Wednesday night.

One of the topics discussed by the newly formed organization were music festivals and how they are conducted. Lloyd Qualey, New London Superintendent of Schools, stated that music festi- vals should be restricted to mem- bers of the conference schools. By restricting participat ing schools to those of the conference it would eliminate costly travel- ing to participate in music festi- vals, he emphasized.

It was also suggested that fes- tivals include clinical work. Judges should not only judge the students but should also spend a limited amount of time with them to explain any improve- ments that are needed.

Time Discussed
There was also a recommen- dation to schedule festivals at times other than April and May when school calendars are loaded with other events.

Officers were elected and in- structed to hold a meeting to schedule conference music events for the 1963-64 school year. All schools were asked to have a rep- resentative at the meeting.

Officers elected were Raymond Langley, New London High School principal, president; Arnold Gruber, Shawano Junior High School principal, vice president and Cal Brocknow, Shawano Senior High School band director, secretary.

Iola Winter Sports Group in 25th Year

Club Planning Anniversary Dance, Celebrations on Saturday Night

IOLA — Plans for a celebration in honor of its 25th year have been completed by the Iola Winter Sports Club. An anniversary dance will be staged at the North Ballroom Saturday night. The club began organization in 1937 and held its first annual meeting on March 10. Officers elected at the meeting were President Arnold Helgeson, Vice President Frederick Secretary Eugene Taylor Treasurer Luther Thirud. Members were J. Roy Strand and Roy Swenson with Helmer Solberg as hall manager.

Helgeson, president of the club for 10 years, said interest in skiing and other winter sports encouraged a few young men to investigate different sites for a ski hill. A site known as Hogsback Hill was chosen, and immediate work was started on clearing the land. The first project was the construction of a wooden ski scaffold.

First Tourney

The first ski tournament was conducted in February, 1938, with seven members entering. Class C entries were Wayne Helgeson, Lee Nelson, and Gilman Colrud. Entered in Class B were Hilmar Solberg, Richard Loope, Robert Grant and Arnold Hegeson. Riding the undercurrent in the Junior Class were John Guillen, 5 and Phillip Strand, 7. Due to the financial status of the club, prizes were awarded only to the two young riders.

Poultry and trap shoots were activities also put on by the club to increase their funds necessary to get started.

In comparing the facilities the club offers spectators today to what it offered then, Helgeson said its first hamburger stand was constructed of slab wood. A club house was completed during the summer of 1938.

Continuous improvements were made on the hill, including the erection of a steel scaffold in 1945.

The high point of activities was reached Feb. 26, 1950, when the National Ski Jumping Tournament was held there. Previous tournaments included state, 1946, and a tri-state, 1947. Tournaments were annual events with the exception of 1943 and 1944.

Buy Farm

In 1957, a 126-acre farm northwest of Iola was purchased as a permanent winter sports site. A jumping tournament has been held there since 1959, although the scaffold was not completed.

Improvements completed include underhill, construction of a two lane stairway on the scaffold, finishing the far end of the out-run for skier safety and construction of a warming house. A junior slide has been added. The first tournament was staged there in February.

To encourage youngsters in skiing, the club has built two portable scaffolds. One is at the village park and the other in Scandinavia.

Presidents for the club since its organization include Helgeson, Ingval Olson, Chester Krause, and Everett Aasen, present president.

Mid-Eastern Group Discusses Plans for Festivals, Schedules

NEW LONDON — Administrators and band instructors from schools of the Mid-Eastern Conference held an organizational meeting at the Rainbow Supper Club here Wednesday night.

One of the topics discussed by the newly formed organization were music festivals and how they are conducted. By restricting participating schools to those of the conference it would eliminate costly traveling to participate in music festivals, he emphasized.

It was also suggested that festivals include choral work. Judges should not only judge the students but should also spend a limited amount of time with them to explain any improvements that are needed.

Time Discussed There was also a recommendation to schedule festivals at times other than April and May when school calendars are loaded with other events.

Officers were elected and instructed to hold a meeting to schedule conference music events for the 1963-64 school year. All schools were asked to have a representative at the meeting.

Sheriff Restricts Use of Papers, Magazines in Jail

Use of newspapers and some magazines is being restricted in the Outagamie County jail.

Sheriff Calvin Spice Thursday clamped down hard on the reading material brought into the county jail by Huber law prisoners. Spice previously has ordered that the "lockup" prisoners' reading be restricted to educational material.

Spice also has ordered that all radios be taken out of the cell section of the jail.

Thursday's crackdown came because newspaper articles about two disturbances in Calumet County, one in a tavern and another in a beer bar, were slipped into the lockup section of the jail by Huber law prisoners.

The articles were read by the prisoners and the information was used to heckle and bother jail and law enforcement officials. A policeman was injured in the tavern incident.

Brought In
Spice said the newspapers were brought into the jail by prisoners who work outside during the day. In an order posted for the jailers, Spice said that all papers and magazines used by the jailers are to be kept in the jail office.

No magazines or newspapers are to be taken into the jail kitchen. If a magazine is taken into the matron's quarters, it is to be returned promptly to the jail office when the matron is finished. Spice said he had no objection to prisoners reading educational magazines, but he said he will not allow trashy magazines to be taken into the cells.

Spice, since he came into office in January, also has stopped television viewing for all prisoners and cigaret smoking among juveniles confined in the jail.

Athletes, Top Scholars Honored by Hilbert

HILBERT — Some 140 persons turned out at the Darby Club Wednesday night to applaud Hilbert High School athletes and scholars.

This year's event, sponsored by the Hilbert Advancement Association, marked the first time that the classroom luminaries shared the spotlight with the gridiron and hardcourt heroes.

Hilbert football coach John Stock introduced 21 players who paced the Wolves to an outstanding season last fall, their first year of league competition in the Little Nine Conference.

Many of the same athletes came out on double laurels when basketball coach Ted Burns introduced the 18 basketball stars who led to Wolves to a co-championship.

Seniors who were active in both sports included Neil Ott, Larry Pruess and Dennis Hernke. Hermonke was a varsity gridder and won a manager's award for basketball.

Two-sport juniors were Stan

Mathes, Gary Bornemann, Jerry Thiel, Kieth Schwalenberg and Gerry Hackbath. Sophomores active in both basketball and football were Francis Wolf, football manager and a basketball player, Andy Schaffer. Gary Schmitz, Lyle Roehrig, Bob Pruess and Don Federwitz.

High School Improvements tentatively planned for the interior of the high school were stage lighting, false ceiling with acoustical tiling in the band practice room, heating system for the Agricultural room, refinishing the floor in the multipurpose room, rearrangement of the library, fluorescent lighting and acoustical ceiling for the sixth grade room and drapes in the kindergarten department.

Added facilities needed to improve teaching in the athletic, science and home economics department were two additional side baskets in the gym, replacement of two old gas stoves in the home economics room and permanent desks with water and gas in the science room and Junior High with the addition of an aquarium and terrarium for biology.

Evaluation Report The final report from North Central Evaluation committee members was read. Comments made on the deficiencies of the school system were on the course of study, teacher preparation, guidance, library and administrative offices.

Supt. Crase and Principal Donald Smith expressed their satisfaction with the results and plan to meet the recommendations of the committee and make application during the 1963-64 school term. A three-member committee will check on the deficiencies corrected and observe progress made on the recommendations.

A step to meet requirements would include locating the two administration and guidance counselor offices closer to the communication system. Floor plans for the change was presented to the board by Crase.

A resolution was passed to revert the Pleasant Hill School property to its original owner, Helmer Thompson.

Director John Gronier or A. O. Lee, clerk, will meet with representatives of the T. G. Evenson & Associates to complete arrangements on the new promissory notes.

Wrightstown School District Electors Approve Bond Issue

750 to 294 Vote Gives Go-Ahead To Borrow $650,000 for Building

Electors in the Wrightstown School District Thursday voted overwhelmingly in favor of a $650,000 bond issue to build and equip a new high school.

A total of 750 votes, or 71.8 per cent, were cast in favor of the bond issue, and 294 opposed it.

Only eight of the 488 votes cast in the Village of Wrightstown opposed the bond issue. In the Greenleaf precinct, where efforts for detachment have threatened the existence of the 10-month old district have been centered, the opponents carried the vote by a narrow margin, with 270 votes for and 286 against the bond issue.

Proceeded Rapidly
Leo Bronkalla, superintendent of schools, said that he and the school board are "very gratified by the endorsement that this vote would indicate." It is an "overwhelming total in view of all the difficulties the district has had," he said.

Bronkalla said as a result of the vote the district intends to proceed with the new school building as rapidly as possible. We definitely plan on having the building underway some time this summer, and hope to have it completed by the middle of next year, he said.

The new high school, planned for a capacity of 325 to 350 students, will be built on a site adjacent to the present high school, which will be remodeled for use as an elementary school. The district will acquire 20 additional acres on the bend of State 96 going out of town toward Greenleaf.

Petitions for detachment of large areas of the district and attachment to Brillion, Reedsville, Kaukauna and De Pere were denied by a four-county school committee April 23. Residents then petitioned municipal boards for detachment of area from the Wrightstown district and attachment to Brillion and Reedsville.

This petition was rejected at a municipal board meeting May 6 because a majority of each board was not present. The chairman of the meeting explained that no action could be taken since eight boards were not represented, and adjourned the meeting.

The petition to the municipal boards would have had to be passed by a majority of each of the 19 boards involved in order for the district reorganization to become effective. Residents now have the recourse of appealing to the state superintendent of public instruction, Outagamie County Superintendent of Schools Henry Van Straten said.

Farm Study Graduates Honored at Banquet

29 Receive Certificates for Completing Vocational School Night Course

FREEDOM — Twenty-nine graduates of Appleton Vocational School's farm training program were honored Thursday evening at the 12th annual graduation and dinner of the Appleton Young Farmers Club at St. Nicholas Catholic Church.

The graduation climaxed for four veterans some 900 hours in a veterans-on-the farm course over the last four years. Leonard Warner, instructor, said there will be but one more graduating class of veteran schooling financed farmers. Receiving certificates were Duane Cowling, route 5, Oshkosh, Darvin Nagel, route 3, Seymour, Jack Berghuis, route 4, Appleton, and Michael Schreiber Jr.

Vernon Geiger, soil conservationist for Outagamie County with the Soil Conservation Service, listed seven steps to stagnation.

He urged farmers to take a part in leadership in their farm areas and in the nation. Many problems we face today, he said, are a result of stagnation of leadership.

Many people today are not interested in what they can do to improve themselves but what they can get for nothing.

The steps to stagnation are: Tried that before; not ready for it; never done it that way before; do all right without it; not our responsibility; cost too much, and just won't work.

Graduates of the five year program of night school classes and on the farm training included Francis Brux, Lewis Fuhrman, George Gracylna, Gordon Gorges, Melvin Green, Kenneth Kasten, Gordon Kerrigan, Richard Killian, Eugene Lambie, Sylvester Lehrer, Edward Marz, Isadore Marx and Don Newhouse.

Wisconsin Man Charged With Arizona Thefts

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Wisconsin man with too many names and no driver's license was charged in two Phoenix bank robberies.

Joseph Paul Scott, 45, of Racine, Wis., was accused in the $1,520 robbery of a Valley National Bank branch in February and the $4,000 robbery of a First National Bank of Arizona branch in April.

Scott was arrested Tuesday near Superior, Ariz., some 65 miles east of Phoenix, by highway patrol officers. They said he had first given his name as Bill Edwards, then later as William F. Porter.

After being taken to jail he made a telephone call to Phoenix. Shortly afterward, a woman showed up and asked to see a Bill Jones.

Highway Patrolman Frank Gillette then called in the FBI. Ed Boyle, FBI agent, said Scott and the woman, identified as Martha Ivy Porter, 29, are wanted in Florida for questioning in a jewelry store robbery and a Dyer Act violation.

On Trash Collections

Appleton, Los Angeles Share Same Headaches

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton, Wis. (pop. 50,000) and Los Angeles, Calif. (pop. 2,500,000) have something in common. . . both have trash collection problems and controversies.

The identical situations existing in our city and the metropolis known for its glamour goes to show that misery enjoys company, even when governments are involved.

That Appleton and Los Angeles have similar trash collection controversies was obvious and revealing during the Johnny Carson Tonight Show on NBC Tuesday. If you were a TV night owl, then you heard Mayor Samuel W. Yorty tell about his Los Angeles trash collection troubles.

Appleton and Los Angeles both have once a month trash pickup. As Mayor Yorty put it, "A lot of our people started to guess the wrong days to put the trash out and it made for a lot of problems." For some, it meant they had to wait two months for a pick-up.

"As you can imagine, the cans started to pile up," Yorty said. So, he decided to do something about it.

With a very vocal group of Los Angeles housewives lending him support, Yorty went to the common council and said he wanted combined trash and garbage pick-ups on a once-a-week basis. The council said "no" and went further by passing an ordinance which called for a $500 fine or six months imprisonment for anyone caught putting cans or metal objects in with garbage.

Yorty said the housewives dared the police to arrest them. No arrests were made.

With Yorty and his feminine followers putting the heat on the council, the latter agreed to revise its ordinance to read that "cans may be combined with garbage."

"I would like to tie cans around some of the aldermen and get rid of a few," Yorty commented.

Here in Appleton a group of women is starting to put the pressure on city officials to improve the present trash pick-up. They contend that once-a-month is not enough and there are a few aldermen who openly agree with them. Some aldermen are in disagreement, and others don't want to get involved in the snowballing issue until they have to.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell at this point is still an observer. In the meantime a study is going to be made of the existing system to determine its flaws, if any or several.

A northwest side housewife called the Post-Crescent to report the neighborhood had its regular trash pick-up Wednesday but would have to wait until June 19 for the next. She suggested the interim was a little too long.

So, whether it is Appleton or Los Angeles, the same kind of problems seem to pop up.

A new Volkswagen costs $1,595* But that isn't as cheap as it sounds. Pound for pound, a VW costs more than practically any car you can name. Actually, that isn't too surprising when you look into it. Not many cars get as much put into them as a Volkswagen. The hand work alone is striking. VW engines are put together by hand. One by one. And every engine is tested twice: once when it's still an engine and again when it's part of the finished car.

A Volkswagen gets painted 4 times and sanded by hand between each coat. Even the roof lining is hand-fitted. You won't find a nick or a dimple or a blob of glue anywhere because VW isn't above rejecting a piece of car for a whole car! if it has to. So you can see why a Volkswagen is so expensive when you figure it by the pound. It's something to think about. Particularly if you haven't bought a Volkswagen because you thought they didn't cost enough.

Gov. Reynolds Plays the Tape Again

Pardon a bored yawn over Governor Reynolds' veto of the Republican sales tax bill. The only thing interesting about the whole procedure was his remark that "There is only one way to impose a sales tax on this state. You've got to lick me."

Otherwise the Governor just turned on the tape recorder and played back the same spiel we've been hearing for lo these many years. It's a tax on the poor "to benefit the wealthy manufacturers," it's a tax on baby's diapers, etc., etc.

Governor Reynolds has detached himself completely from the fiscal problems this state faces in future years. He memorized his fiscal line way back when he was running for attorney general, found that it won him votes, and merely repeats it every time the question comes up.

But we wonder if the people aren't getting a bit tired of the refrain. We wonder if they are not going to insist that the man elected to the chief administrative office of this state has some responsibilities to work with the legislature in solving this problem.

It is not only a problem for this biennium. Whatever is done this year is only a sample of the problem we will face again two and four and six years from now. The plain fact of the matter is that government spending in Wisconsin is rising at a much faster rate than the growth in the state's economy.

The Republican plan for a "Committee of 25" to study the whole question of government spending on a state-wide level is vital.

Former Governor Nelson's Blue-Ribbon committee studied the tax structure and its recommendations were promptly thrown in the ash can by his own Democratic party. But the real problem is the level of spending. If some element of control cannot be injected into the rise in expenditures it is obvious that the state will need not only a general sales tax but healthy increases in the income tax rates as well over the next few years.

Governor Reynolds has told the Republicans in the legislature that the tax problem must be solved on his terms or none. So the Republicans will now take the alternative. They'll give him none. They will adjust the budget to current income levels and go home.

As one Republican assemblyman put it recently: "Will it be so terrible if we don't raise taxes this year?"

Maybe this tax deadlock is a blessing in disguise. Maybe it will force us to take a hard look at such unpopular subjects politically as the formulas for distributing school aids, spending by 72 separate county highway departments, our extensive welfare programs, and whether we can finance a college education for every boy and girl in the state.

These questions are going to have to be faced sometime in the relatively near future.

50 Million People Receive $50 Billion in Federal Funds

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Money makes the political mare go. It "ain't hay," but the federal fillies are running on the biggest stack of the people's own money in the history of the United States.

Taylor

And it fosters a false impression of a providential papa. Seasonably, he's called Santa Claus. And nobody is ever expected to shoot that horse.

The creation of this impression is a politician's paradise. We hear needless talk about "federal funds," "Washington will pay," a "government grant," etc. Hokus, hokey, hokum.

MIXED-UP WORDS

The problem is not to let mixed-up words mix us up. There is no such thing as "federal funds." It's our money — the taxpayers' funds. "Washington pays" — for nothing. We pay every penny for everything. A "government grant" is a gift from taxpayers. The federal payroll is the taxpayers' payroll.

Now, a race horse has been described as an animal that can take several thousand people for a ride at the same time. Our political horses take millions of us for a ride merely by playing on their ignorance with this self-serving language.

Some digging reveals that absolutely incredible number of individuals receiving payments through federal (taxpayers') payrolls and statutory programs.

The digging task itself is large when you include those receiving contributory and insurance funds. But the digging was done by the staff of the Senate Finance Committee. These good people sought out the figures from scores of sprawling official sources. This service performed, all you have to do is reach for the aspirin and read:

The year, of course, is fiscal 1963. People on the federal payrolls total more than 2.5 million. They're getting $15 billion. The military National Guard, paid Reserves and Peace Corps total 3.7 million. They're receiving nearly $13 billion.

Among only these two groups more than six million people and nearly $28 billion are now involved. ADD PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Direct payments for public assistance go to another seven million people. These total $2.5 billion.

Over 4.5 million people receive veterans' compensations and pensions involving $3.8 billion.

ton, was one of the six women at Lawrence College named to Mortar Board, national society for outstanding senior women in scholarship, leadership and service.

Mrs. Howard Gloe was elected president of the Menasha Music Parents Club to succeed Mrs. Ray Grant in office.

Agricultural, soil conservation, acreage reserve, the sugar act, etc., payments go out to 1.6 million individuals at a cost of $650 million.

Retirement payments are being made to 1.9 million people. The cost: $3 billion.

Space (and your patience) prohibits listing smaller groups of hundreds of thousands of additional people and hundreds of millions of dollars, and, of course, none of this includes Social Security — 19 million people, $15 billion — or unemployment insurance that totals 17 million individuals and $21 billion. It also excludes veterans' insurance involving 5.2 million veterans and $942 million a year.

In a nutshell, more than 50 million individuals are now receiving federal payments each year totalling more than $50 billion.

Meanwhile, one out of every 10 federal tax dollars goes to pay just the interest on money already borrowed. Our national debt has been inflated to a new all-time high. Our gold ownership has vanished to zero; there are only cinders left of that yellow haystack. And the sole recommendation the Washington spenders offer is to spend more by borrowing more.

HAPPY AS BEES

They appear to be happy as bees in a bank of flowers about all this. Not one word of apology. Protests against financial irresponsibility and our debt condition are answered to the accompaniment of the usual humbug and cant. Nevertheless it's going to take a great deal of better care of inflation and everything else to play fair with all these millions on millions of people.

Our earned dollar is worth only what the dollar will buy. It has now struck another brand-new low. The chief inflationary pressure under our entire economy is the nearly incredible mishandling of our taxpayers' funds at home and abroad.

As a result, millions can get along on what they earn but not on their take-home pay. Yet, tragically, our politicians produce still more spending programs and shout louder and louder, "Come and get it," like chuck-wagon cooks calling cowpokes on the plains.

Texas Law Let Johnson Run for Two Offices

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In the editorial concerning Congressman John Byrnes, and the various offices that might be open for him to seek next year, you put forth several reasons to support your apparent position. In the paragraph in which you use Vice President Johnson as an example, I fear you did not do your homework.

In 1960 the Texas legislature passed a law, which was signed by the Governor, which allowed the then Senator Johnson to run for two offices in the fall election. At the time the law was enacted Mr. Johnson was still working and hoping for the presidential nomination, but as things turned out, the law also allowed him to run for both the Senate and the Vice Presidency in the November election. I believe the record will show that Mr. Johnson did, in fact, get elected to both offices. Not being able to serve both capacities, he resigned his Senate seat — and the seat is now held by Senator Tower.

Other than that there is in my opinion, a good deal of truth in your editorial.

Court Challenge of Appointments Delay Would be Interesting

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Periodically Gov. Reynolds chooses a situation to demonstrate that beneath his glad - handing and e a s y going exterior manner there is a tough and realistic mind.

Such a demonstration may be his threat to appeal to the courts for a determination of his rights in the appointment of members of state boards and commissions, in the face of the evident disinclination of the Republican state senate to confirm or reject such nominations as he has submitted for its consideration thus far.

There is presented here a kind of twilight zone of constitutional law, as far as Wisconsin legal case histories are concerned. The situation of which he has complained is also new. Normally in the past the governor and the senate were of the same persuasion, or there was not the keen political distrust between them that prevails today. Sometimes senators would reject gubernatorial nominations, and then the governor would make another choice more to their liking.

BUT NOW . . .

But today the senate has evidently resolved to defeat all of the governor's nominations, by inderction.

The appointments are referred to committee, and there they stay, without action.

As the governor quite legitimately explains, or complains, this can be a method by which to defeat his men without the trouble of an actual roll call so that the constituents of the legislators know what is going on.

Nor is there very much doubt that this is the strategy of the Republicans who control the upper house. There are a couple of men now sitting on the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents, for example, who have been pending in the senate since the administration of Gaylord Nelson. Reynolds resubmitted them early this year but there is yet no sign that they will be given a hearing, or brought up for a confirmation vote.

But to suggest that this rejection of nominees by inderction is possible, or apparent, is easier than to prove that it is the fact, which Gov. Reynolds will be required to do when he takes the issue to court.

Who is to say, in the absence of statutory or constitutional requirements, how much time the senate is entitled to use in the consideration of the qualifications of these men the governor wants to sit in important offices and direct important state policy?

The senators are busy. Is two months or six months or a year a reasonable period during which to reflect about their decision. There are bills and resolutions buried in committee also. Can the courts require legislators to vote on a measure that has been presented to them, against their will?

THE ISSUE

Yet as the governor says there is involved here the constitutional power of the executive.

The legislature in recent years has refined the recess device so that it is now a means for keeping the legislature in session in a legal sense, even though it is not in session in physical terms. Obviously there is a chance through this device to thwart the governor's appointive power altogether. That is the issue Reynolds wants the courts to rule upon. Can the senate take away the right of the governor to make appointments? As he explains, the issue transcends his immediate political troubles. It involves the rights of his successor also.

A court determination may take many months, so that it is unlikely to have any effect upon the present situation. It is possible that Republican lawyers will reconsider the situation on the basis of the threatened lawsuit and advise the upper house that it is not worth the risk of repudiation. In that event the governor is likely to draw consolation on a constitutional construction basis only. There is very little chance for the confirmation of many of his men. If the Republican senators are forced to vote, they will vote to reject them.

Strictly Personal

Did You Ever Try to Think Left-Handed?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

If you are normally a right-handed person, try a little experiment for a half-hour or so: do with your left hand everything that you usually do with your right.

The most simple and obvious acts will become complicated and cumbersome. You will hardly be able to write or cut or eat your food; and you will quickly become baffled, frustrated and exasperated.

Now imagine this lop-sided process intensified a thousand-fold, and you may have some idea of how painful and difficult it is to think "with the left hand" — that is, to reverse our customary process of thought.

Why has science made such enormous strides in knowledge and development, while human affairs still remain largely as they were in the days of the Assyrian Empire? Largely because every advance in science is gained by reversing the spool of thought — by thinking in a way that is opposite of the traditional and customary ways.

Of all the habits of mankind, the habits of thought are the most persistent, the most tenacious, the most enslaving. We put on an idea in the morning as we put on a shoe, left or right first, unconsciously and without ever varying the procedure by a fraction.

And our resistance against changing our habits of thought is immense and unrelenting. If we try, briefly, we find it as vexing and unrewarding as writing a letter with the left hand. What we are used to is comfortable; what is comfortable is good; and what is good is right — this is the unspoken belief of almost all people everywhere.

When a scientist, however, that has hitherto seemed insoluble, he abandons all his preconceptions, on all the preconceptions of the past. Only when he begins to question the basic assumptions he has always held can he make an utterly fresh start, unencumbered by the intellectual baggage of the past.

I am not suggesting that a knowledge of the past is not useful, or that history and tradition have little to offer us — but they must be used as tools, not as points of departure. Our thinking about them must involve a painful revaluation of our most cherished ideas and ideals.

Not one person in a thousand is willing — although many are able — to think left-handed for more than a few minutes at a time. Yet every important discovery has been made in this way, from Harvey on circulation of the blood to Freud on the role of the unconscious. And we know what derision and abuse such men were subjected to for daring to violate the right-handedness of their times.

affair, introduced by the two party leaders, Democrat Mike Mansfield and Republican Everett M. Dirksen.

It extended the Senate's "profound congratulations to Maj. Cooper on his heroic accomplishment," and expressed gratification "to his family and to all those who have contributed to the success of his mission."

Mansfield said all the senators would sign the resolution which would be sent to the astronaut and his family.

Praise in House

House leaders were unsparing in their praise, too.

"All America is proud of the great achievement accomplished by Maj. Cooper," said Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass. "He added lustre and glory to his country."

Halleck said he was certain that every American salutes Maj. Cooper for his skill and courage and the many people whose work and genius made the flight possible.

Sen George A. Smathers, D-Fla. proposed in a telegram to the President that a joint session be called "to pay tribute to the seven members of the Mercury team, whose joint efforts have brought fame and honor to our nation."

As soon as the President got word that Cooper was down safe, he telephoned Cooper's wife Trudy at Houston and told her he was looking forward to seeing both of them.

Kennedy Phones Cooper

A short time later Kennedy picked up a direct telephone line with the aircraft carrier Kearsarge and told Cooper "I just want to personally congratulate you that was a great flight."

Then Kennedy stepped in front of microphones and television cameras to voice his pride to the nation.

"Fellow Americans, I have just talked to Maj. Cooper in the Pacific and to his wife Trudy in Houston, Tex. We are proud of both of them and indeed we take the greatest satisfaction in this extraordinary feat which has pushed the experience of man a

Court Grants Divorces to Three Couples

Three couples have been divorced in Outagamie County Court, Branch 1. Charges in all cases were cruel and inhuman treatment.

Frank Ronsman, 73, Two Rivers, and Esther Ronsman, 63, 1631 N. Racine St., ended 45 years of marriage. Mrs. Ronsman was awarded a decree by Judge Raymond P. Dohr. The couple was married Feb. 26, 1918, and separated Jan. 20, 1960. There was no alimony or support ordered and a property settlement was held in abeyance.

Robert L. Pilgrim, 34, a serviceman stationed in Germany, and Vera Pilgrim, 32, 234 Cherry St., Seymour, were divorced. The couple was married May 12, 1952 and separated April 15, 1960. There are three children and Pilgrim was ordered to pay $180 a month support and alimony.

A divorce was granted Howard Cornelius, 43, 404 N. Appleton St., and Nellie Cornelius, 44, route 2, DePere. The couple was married Sept. 1, 1951, and separated Sept. 28, 1959. Cornelius was ordered to pay $35 per week support and alimony.

Flights of Cooper, Lindbergh Compared good deal further in many ways than it has been.

"We are proud of Maj. Cooper and we are proud of all those thousands of Americans who worked with him to make this flight possible.

"And indeed, in a sense, all Americans were on this flight because all of them have sustained this program in good times and in bad and it represents a great achievement for our society and a great achievement for free men and women.

"Peace has her victories as well as war and this was one of the victories for the human spirit to day."

Wires of congratulations went out of the Pentagon from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert.

Cooper Met Challenge At End of His Flight

the trouble with the electrical system, and diagnosed the trouble.

Essentially, what it did was to limit the ways Cooper had to control and to sense the position or attitude of his spacecraft. It knocked out the automatic control system's usefulness for the first stages of re-entry—and it knocked out the accurate sensing devices that give an instrument reading of the spacecraft's attitude.

The automatic control still could be used for damping down the shudder effects on the spacecraft as it entered the denser atmosphere. But it couldn't be used—nor could the position instruments—for the critical job of controlling the spacecraft's position when the retro or slow-down rockets fired preparatory for the spacecraft's plunge to earth.

Later, as this problem approached solution, more trouble appeared. The inverter which changes direct current to alternating current to run the automatic system failed. A back-up inverter was pressed into service. But it too failed. No one knows why.

Job Up to Cooper

So Cooper had to do the whole job himself. He had to use manual slow-down rockets controlling the spacecraft position jettisoning the spent rockets.

And he did it well. On position said fellow astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., who talked him down through the early re-entry, he was right on the money. Glenn counted out the slow-down rocket count-down for him and monitored the position by radar from the Pacific Ocean ship on which he was stationed, the Coastal Sentry.

Cooper had to rely on marks on his window, lining them up with references such as the earth's horizon, to set his delicate position.

The landing was beautiful, about 40 miles from the prime recovery carrier the USS Kearsarge.

Robert R. Giluth, director of the Manned Space Flight Center, called the automatic system which Cooper lost "the chimp mode."

It was built into the system because of early flights with chimpanzees, he said, to bring them and the spacecraft down to earth safely and automatically. It is very accurate when it is working.

But, he added, "some of us old airplane people had confidence in the human race" and put in a way for a man to override the automatic system and land the spacecraft himself.

It was the first flight, agreed Williams, where the man was absolutely essential.

If Cooper had not been able to perform the landing task, if he had been unconscious, he would have still been in orbit.

very glad he is back safe." She was one of the few Russians who knew of the successful ending of the flight.

Many German newspapers kept late editions open to chronicle the landing. Germany's Bildzeitung called Cooper "the man with out nerves." German radio stations carried live broadcasts of the landing.

Spanish newspapers gave the feat top treatment and the Spanish national television network extended its normal transmissions to carry the report of the landing. Paris newspapers, including the Communist L'Humanite, headlined the story.

Praise From Reds

Italy's Communist party newspaper, L'Unita, joined the Italian press in praising Cooper's flight. Said L'Unita's headline "He is the most Bravo American astronaut."

In Japan, all major newspapers splashed the Cooper story. Commented Asahi "It was an epoch-making feat that Cooper lived—eating, working and sleeping in space."

South Korea's military ruler, Gen. Chung Hee Park, messaged Kennedy, "We salute the courage of your astronaut and wish further success to America's brilliant scientists in your constant efforts to safeguard the free world."

In Indonesia, the Herald, often regarded as reflecting the foreign minister's thinking, observed "Now that the United States has succeeded in demonstrating the resourcefulness of its space technology, the possibility of a space cooperation program with the Soviet Union has become easier to accomplish."

Chief Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin paid glowing tribute. He told the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva:

"I want to congratulate the U.S. citizen Major Cooper and the U.S. government for the happy and successful conclusion of the flight around the earth."

Milestone in Progress

"This is a new milestone in our progress toward knowledge of outer space and will be a stimulus to all of us who are working here and to our efforts toward general and complete disarmament."

Romanian delegate George Mavroescu and Canadian delegate Gen. E. L. M. Burns joined in the congratulations. Burns added: "It is to be regretted that political science has not kept up. It takes 88 minutes to go round the earth but we have made no progress here in eight weeks."

U. S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle said:

"On behalf of my government and in particular on behalf of the many scientists engaged on the American program for the peaceful exploration of outer space I would like to thank the Soviet representative and all other delegates for their kind and friendly remarks in connection with the successful space flight of Maj. Cooper."

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio astronomy station, described Cooper's flight as "a heroic human feat and a tremendous scientific accomplishment which is bound to have most beneficial effects on the progress of the space program of the west."

President Chiang Kai-shek of China also sent congratulations to President Kennedy.

Former Appleton Minister Named To College Board

The Rev. James L. Welch Waukegan, formerly of Appleton, and the Rev. Ellsworth E. Frever, Green Bay, are among the directors of Suomi College, Hancock, Mich. who were elected at the convention of the Wisconsin-Lutheran Church in America at Green Lake Thursday.

Officers of various organizations within the synod were elected at the convention. Delegates also approved a special financial campaign for the Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago, to be conducted in the fall of 1964 and in 1965 for a goal of $1,150,000, and elected delegates to the 1966, and biennial convention of the Lutheran Church in America to be held next year in Pittsburgh.

White House Fete For L. C. Cooper Has Been Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper's reception by President Kennedy at the White House is being delayed for 24 hours until Tuesday—to give the globe-circling Air Force major "more breathing time."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the ceremony will be held at 12:15 p.m. EDT Tuesday in the rose garden just outside Kennedy's office.

Originally the reception was to have been held at that hour on Monday.

Asked if the postponement reflected any exhaustion on Cooper's part from his 34-hour flight through space, Salinger said, "No there's none of that."

He said Cooper will go ahead with plans to hold a news conference Sunday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and simply would set aside Monday as a day of rest.

Cooper will be flown to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., from Cape Canaveral aboard an Air Force jet Tuesday morning. He will hop by helicopter from Andrews to the White House.

A feature of the White House ceremony will be the presentation to Cooper of the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Kennedy will present it.

Henry Taylor Winner of Sokolsky Award

Henry J. Taylor, United Feature Syndicate columnist whose tri-weekly, world affairs column appears in the Post-Crescent, was named one of the four winners of the first George E. Sokolsky Awards.

Other winners are Francis Cardinal Spellman, Earl E. T. Smith, former U. S. Ambassador to Cuba, and television and radio columnist Jack O'Brian.

The awards given to those who have "displayed complete devotion to our democratic principles" and "fought against the encroachment of communism" were created by the American Jewish League Against Communism following Sokolsky's death last December. Sokolsky was renowned for his opposition to communism.

The awards are being presented today by Roy M. Cohn, president of the AJLAC.

Emergency Guard Units Identified

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has identified four National Guard infantry divisions and two armored Guard divisions in the East and South as ones that would be called up early in the event of an emergency.

The identification was a change in long-standing policy. The Army had refused to identify the six, saying then disposition is a security matter under war plans.

The six priority divisions are the 42nd Infantry of New York, the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts, the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania, the 30th Infantry of North Carolina, the 50th Armored of New Jersey and the 30th Armored of Tennessee.

At the same time, the Army said the 38th Infantry of Indiana and the 47th Infantry of Minnesota have been assigned special missions. The announcement did not say so, but it is known the two divisions would be sent to reinforce Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone in an emergency.

Cuban Boss Returns To Soviet Capital

MOSCOW (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro returned to Moscow today from a 10-day tour of the Soviet Union.

Mikhail A. Suslov, secretary of the Soviet Communist Party's central committee, headed a delegation of officials and Cuban diplomats who welcomed Castro back.

It is not known how much longer Castro will remain in the Soviet Union.

Merit awards were presented to 11 outstanding students at the Appleton Vocational and Adult School Friday.

Selected by the student body and the faculty to receive the honors at the annual student award program were David Krueger, Marion, automotive; Richard Schaff, Chilton, drafting; Roger Helms, New London, electricity; Richard Roeland, route 2, Menasha, machine shop; Daniel Schoenrock, New London, printing; Virgil Gyrion, Appleton, compulsory; Linda Thomas, Appleton, home economics; Carl Techlin, Appleton, business administration; Lee Rihm, Seymour, business administration - sales and marketing; Dean Planert, Shiocton, junior accounting; and Kathleen Stiebs, Ogdensburg, stenographic-secretarial.

Appleton Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz, the guest speaker, urged the students to develop a philosophy of life as they prepared to take their places in the world. "Each of you should be able to say 'these are the things I believe, these are the things I am concerned about, this is my philosophy of life,'" he said.

things I believe, these are the things I am concerned about, this is my philosophy of life," he said.

Develop Philosophy

"Many of you are at the point where you will take your places in the world," Kurtz told the students. "How many have wondered what image of youth you are depicting to your fellow workers? Will your image be one of disinterest, delinquency and failure, or one of intelligence, interest, kindness, happiness, success?"

A person reaching the age of 21 should have developed a sound philosophy of life, he said. Roger Helms, giving the response for the award winners, said, "I hope we can live up to the confidence you have placed in us by doing a good job in the field in which we have been trained. This is the most important thing we can do for the school."

Philip LaBorde presided at the program and Robert Rusch presented the engraved certificates and gold pins to the award winners. Both are AVS faculty members. The award winners are selected on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, service to the school and technical skill.

Flight May Speed Landing on Moon

wire in some inexplicable manner.

Tension mounted aboard this big ship and at the launch headquarters in Cape Canaveral, Fla. where Cooper had blasted off Wednesday morning.

Cooper would have to fire his rockets manually and also personally adjust the vital descent attitude of Faith 7.

John H. Glenn Jr., Cooper's fellow astronaut and predecessor in space, undertook to talk him down. Glenn was aboard the tracking ship Coastal Sentry off southern Japan.

Manual re-entry was not a novel situation. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter experienced similar trouble—but as a result landed well off target.

Exactly on Time

Calmly, Cooper responded "roger" or "okay" to Glenn's counsel, and on the 22nd orbit they started the count-down together. A mistake of a single second in firing any of the three reverse rockets could mean a landing error of seven miles. A few seconds awry could spell disaster after 560,000 miles of smooth sailing.

The Kearsarge, where a happy outlook had turned to tension, sent up her search and rescue planes. Imperturbably, Cooper fired his rockets as he soared over the Red China coast near Shanghai. Soon the Kearsarge radar scope located an object 84 miles high, out of sight above thin clouds.

The waiting men aboard the Kearsarge and two destroyers on station shortly heard the reverberating thunderclap of a sonic boom.

A rainbow-like halo glowed around the sun.

The Faith 7 popped into view almost dead ahead, dangling gently from its 63-foot red and white striped parachute. The crew shouted gaily.

Scorched by its fall through the atmosphere but solid and intact, it plumped into the 5 foot waves. First official estimates put it a mere 7,000 yards off the port bow, but it finally was fixed at 4.4 nautical miles, 8,600 yards. "I'm in fine shape," Cooper radioed. He had been aloft 34 hours, 20½ minutes.

Helicopter 51 dropped frogmen who affixed flotation gear to the capsule. A whaleboat smartly towed it alongside and a crane lifted it onto the hangar deck's elevator No. 3. Cooper blew off the hatch and Dr. Richard L. Pollard of the space agency crawled in and took his blood pressure.

Waves and Smiles

Cooper crawled out backward, smiling but evidently giddy.

Dr. Pollard and Dr. Charles W. Upp helped him walk along a strip of red canvas, lined with white guide ropes and Marines in dress blues. Cooper said nothing, but waved and smiled while a band played.

A little later in the ship's sick bay for examination, he said, "I agree with the other fellows. Wow! Faith 7 did well. I had a few little problems but nothing major."

In quick succession then he received telephone calls from President Kennedy, Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert, and his wife, Trudy, back home in Houston, Tex.

"I want to congratulate you very much," the President said

"The country is very proud of you."

"Thank you very much, sir," Cooper replied.

"I enjoyed it very much."

Many congratulatory radio-grams poured in from public officials. The Senate passed an official resolution of congratulations. Kennedy invited the new space hero and his family to the White House Monday.

Cooper then underwent a two-hour preliminary medical examination before being permitted to retire to the admiral's inboard cabin.

Cooper's long flight is expected to be the last of the Mercury series. Brainerd Holmes, director of Manned Space Flight, said there was less than a 50 per cent chance that there would be another.

The next step is the Gemini program—two men in one vehicle—at least 18 months in the future. The next step after Gemini is a manned landing on the moon, predicted in this decade.

Good Human Computer

Cooper, affectionately nicknamed "Gordo" after a cartoon character, "acted effectively as a human computer," Holmes said. The "computer" will have a more human interlude a day from now.

On midday Saturday he will fly from this ship to Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, where wife Trudy and daughters Camala and Janita will be awaiting him. It was in Honolulu, as a student at the University of Hawaii, that Cooper met Trudy in 1946.

After a parade, a civic reception and a visit with the Hawaii governor, John A. Burns, he and his family will depart by jet for his starting point, Cape Canaveral, at 1:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Sunday.

2 More Milwaukee Assembly Seats or Veto for Remapping

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds will veto any legislative redistricting bill that does not give Milwaukee County two additional assemblymen, a governor's aide told the Assembly Elections Committee Thursday.

The statement by Leonard Zubrenski, Reynolds' legal counsel, came during a hearing on a resolution that would amend the Constitution to provide for a commission to reapportion the state if the Legislature fails to act.

A Republican redistricting measure, introduced in the Senate this week, would give Waukesha County two additional Assembly seats but retains Milwaukee representation at 24.

As Attorney General Reynolds brought suit to force the 1961 Legislature to reapportion but the Supreme Court told him to wait until June 1 and then reinstate the suit if the 1963 session refuses to reapportion. Assemblyman Earl McEssy, R-Fond du Lac, asked Zubrenski if Reynolds is willing to reconsider that June 1 deadline.

No Discussion

"We haven't discussed it," Zubrenski answered. "I'm sure any time you want to sit down . . . we will discuss it with you."

Zubrenski said Reynolds is "a reasonable man." Not on taxes," McEssy retorted. Finally getting back to the resolution on a constitutional amendment, the author, Allen Flannigan, D-Milwaukee, said the commission idea is aimed at "getting the job done."

"Asking the Legislature to reapportion itself is like asking a doctor to operate on himself," he declared. "and it looks like we're going to have to go to court again."

Zubrenski put Reynolds on record in support of the Flannigan proposal.

An indication of the temper of the Republican-controlled Assembly on reapportionment questions was the quick vote by which it recommended killing of the resolution.

Lady Pays Bill With Seven Bags of Pennies

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — It made sense to Miss Isabelle Penny, but not to architect Gordon Wiedenkel, who worked with his office staff gathering 35,846 of the lady's "namesakes" off the floor.

Miss Penny, 60, lost a court judgment of $358.46 to Wiedenkel Thursday despite her contention that she didn't owe the architect anything for building plans, because she didn't use them.

Miss Penny paid with seven bags of pennies which were dumped on the floor.

FOUR ROSES DISTILLERS CO. N.Y.C. • BLENDED WHISKEY 66 PROOF • 60% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

A penny can make your drink taste better.

A whiskey that stands up, a whiskey that won't wilt in ice, a whiskey that won't mix away in the mix, is a whiskey that makes a better drink.

Right?

Right. Four Roses is such a whiskey.

It has to be. It's made to be. Starting with the choice of grain. Grades #1 and #2 only. The best there are, says the government.

And continuing with the special, costlier way it is blended with fine grain neutral spirits.

All for the one, worthy purpose of keeping that rare Four Roses character intact to the last tilt of the glass. (Prove it, for example, in your next old-fashioned.)

What's the penny got to do with all this?

The penny is about all the extra it costs per drink to invest in a bottle of Four Roses.

Considering the facts, this is not so much more to pay. Certainly not for a drink with so much more in it.

Few Wisconsin Cities Stand Alone When It Comes to Strange Names

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

I have come into possession of a fascinating book, a shipping guide dated 1915 published by the Chicago and North Western Railroad. And if the book does nothing else, it reveals the paucity of man's imagination.

The placenames of that period — some of them no longer extant — reveal that there are few places which bear individual titles except, of course, the strange monickers like Whynot, Miss., Payment, Mich., and Buttercup (there's two of these, one in Pennsylvania, one in Mississippi). It amuses me, and I hope you, to find duplicates of placenames in Wisconsin, it has been rewarding, too.

Gillett, for example, which is tucked in Oconto County doesn't stand alone by any means. My scouting trip through the shipping guide tells me that there are nine other Gilletts in the country, plus a few named Gillette, Gilletts, etc.

The nine are, or were, in Arkansas, Colorado, Michigan, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Texas, Florida, New Jersey and Wyoming.

It does seem to me that Tiger-ton, Wisconsin, is sufficiently individualistic to be solitary, but such is not the case. Besides the one in our Waupaca County, there are 11 more—in North Carolina, Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, and Texas.

A few Northeastern Wisconsin placenames stand alone. Among them are New Holstein, Pulcifer, Hilbert, Kewaunee, Waupaca, Sumico, DePere, Weyauwega, Fremont, New Franken, Kunesch, Rutte des Morts, Little Chute, Manitowoc, Kaukauna and Winneconne.

It would seem that Pensaukee is an odd enough name to stand alone, but such is not entirely the case. There is a Pensauken at New Jersey.

Oshkosh, named for the Menominee Indian chief, is not solitary, either, for there is an Oshkosh in Nebraska.

More Green Bays

Green Bay should stand alone, too, but, goodness! There are Green Bays listed in Alabama, Florida and Virginia. Furthermore, the suffix "Green" on the name of a community or station is found in at least 525 places so it is popular in the United States.

Appleton, Wisconsin has 10 sisters—in Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington, Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota and Maine.

Even Wisconsin's Pulaski has not the distinction of being alone in the United States. That placename is listed in 16 different states!

Winchester Popular

Marion may be a pretty name but it is not an exclusive one. The railroad book lists cities, villages or stations in a whopping 61 other places. There are 18 places named Amherst, two named Abrams, one here and one in Pennsylvania.

Winchester is popular, too, for there are 37 places listed which bear that monicker. And Sturgeon Bay which ought to stand alone, has a sister in Michigan and a lot of cousins bearing the first name; 11 of them.

And wouldn't you think that Neenah and Menasha could claim exclusive rights to those odd names? Well, they can't. There is a Neenah in Virginia and a Menasha in Alaska. There is also a Menasha in Arkansas and, strangely enough, there is also a Menemsha in Massachusetts. Perhaps if those Wisconsin twin cities ever become one, Menemsha might be appropriate as a starter. There is a Chilton in Calumet County, but there are Chiltons listed also in Alabama, Kentucky, Missouri, West Virginia and Texas. Kimberly in Outagamie County has more than its share of sisters—11 of them.

Larsen in Winnebago County has no duplicates, but it has kin elsewhere, for there are nine Larsons with an "O" listed in the old book.

Isn't Angelica worthy of singularity? Well, that community in Shawano County has three sisters, one in New York, one in Pennsylvania and one in Virginia. Sherwood has many relatives—25 of them; and Reedsville has eight. New London, Wisconsin—presumably named for the old one—has counterparts in the United States, too. There are nine others.

The creative processes of mankind in establishing placenames is what causes so many duplications. Even such a name is Minnehaha which is curious enough to go solo, is listed in six different states.

And, probably because the number seven is considered lucky, there is a total of 56 places with the prefix "Seven" in the name. These include Seven Guns, Ky., Seven Bridges, Pa., Seven Devils, Wash., Seven Nations, N. Y., Seven Oaks in many places and Seven Stars in Pa., to cite a few.

But man's creative processes apparently draw a line from time to time. For example, I could find — hurrah! — only one place named Negro Arm and that is in Virginia.

Summer Job Competition Gets Keener Each Year

Competition for summer jobs in medical technology or some other phase of science. Observers in the field of employment believe this situation will continue for years to come, because of the sharp jump in the annual number of boys and girls who will turn 16, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. Sixteen is the age when youngsters begin summer job hunting in earnest. Approximately 3.5 million boys and girls will reach that age this year.

"Naturally, all these young people won't be looking for summer jobs, but we can expect that more than half of them will be," says Eli E. Cohen, executive secretary of the National Committee on Employment of Youth. Even with this reduction, the total of teenage job-seekers is expected to swell by nearly three million persons during the coming summer months.

Many teen-agers have already lined up jobs for the two summer months they will be away from school, but more are looking — and learning that summer jobs are not too easy to find, particularly if this is their first time around. Most employers prefer previous work experience, or academic training or on-the-job training that is related to the job in question. According to most estimates, 2.6 million teen-agers will be able to find regular summer work, including absolute beginners. Family observers point out that these youngsters will earn a good deal more than just some extra pocket money. Through a job they learn something of the meaning of responsibility and doing things on the basis of initiative. They also see the necessity of learning how to get along with others.

A vacation job can have still another advantage: it can suggest career possibilities to the boy or girl who has not yet made up his mind about the future. For instance, a lad who does summer work in a department store may find himself drawn into a career in retailing. A girl with a vacation job in a doctor's or dentist's office may decide on a career goal. For example, a boy with an interest in electronics may use part of his summer earnings for one of those new hi-fi kits, or he may have his eye on some rather fine fishing tackle.

On the other hand, many a girl who is looking forward to a wedding after graduating from high school, is systematically putting aside her summer earnings toward the day she will have a home of her own.

VFW Auxiliary Elects Delegates To Convention

Mrs. Leroy Ruwoldt, Mrs. Lee Thompson, Mrs. Donald Manier, Mrs. Richard Hendricks, Mrs. John Steenis and Mrs. Marjorie VanWeele were named department delegates to the June 29 state convention at Kenosha when the VFW Auxiliary to the Harvey Pierre Post 2778 met Tuesday at VFW hall.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Eugene Hoffman. Mrs. Gilbert Melchert was installing conductress.

Reports were given by Mrs. Fred Peske, rehabilitation and sunshine chairman; Mrs. Manier, youth and kitchen chairman, and Mrs. Edward Kies, cancer chairman.

Mrs. James Piette and Mrs. Neil Brown were introduced as new members. Donations were voted to the Wisconsin Veteran and J. Edgar Hoover Foundations. Plans were discussed for the Auxiliary and Junior Unit's participation in the Memorial Day parade.

The next meeting will be June 11.

50th Wedding Anniversary Observed

Wife Objects to Patients' Demands on Doctor Husband

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have wanted to write to you on other occasions when I've disagreed with your advice, but somehow I never got around to it. A recent column, however, was so stupid I can't put off writing any longer. I mean your insipid reply to the woman whose nutty husband locked up his personal belongings every night.

You told the wife to phone her doctor and he would "take it from there." It is obvious, Ann Landers, that you are not married to a doctor. Well, I am, and if he got a call like that my husband would think the woman was nutty and perhaps her husband knew what he was doing.

Too many screwballs in the world are already phoning their doctors at all hours of the day and night to chat about ridiculous things and now you come along and encourage it!

Why didn't you print your husband's business telephone number and tell the crazy woman to call him? — Amazed at Your Ignorance

Dear Amazed: I did not suggest that the woman phone her doctor at home and discuss the problem.

I did suggest that a husband who locks up his car keys, credit cards, loose change and cuff links, every night and pins the key in his pajama pocket, needs professional help. This is what I meant by "have a talk with your doctor and he will take it from there."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As the executive director of a home for unwed mothers I was interested in the letter from R.D., the woman who rejoiced that her 13-year-old daughter was going steady. She was in error beginning with her first sentence. The woman wrote: "I am a mother." She is a female baby sitter — and a poor one. A mother should have a measure of maturity. Referring to her 13-year-old daughter, she said, "It's a sad sight to see this child, teary-eyed and fretting, waiting for the telephone to ring."

Ask her, Ann, if she thinks it is pleasant to see a 13-year-old girl sitting teary-eyed and fretting — pregnant in a maternity home. We get some youngsters who are 11 years of age. I have seen them and I know what I'm talking about. These girls often tell us that going steady was the cause.

R. D. says things are different than when she was a girl. There she is right, Ann. Things are different. The unwed pregnancy rate is more than 300 per cent higher. Five years ago we had empty beds. We added a unit recently and still we have room for only one out of four applicants. Many of the girls who come to us tell us Ann Landers sent them.

Please keep hammering away in your column about the dangers of going steady. From where I sit, things don't look good. — D.P. of Fairhaven Home, Sacramento, Calif.

Dear D. P.: Thank you for your letter. Many teenagers are unhappy with me because of my firm and relentless stand against going steady. I intend to keep hammering away on this subject until my typewriter falls apart.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How to Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Proper Clothes Needed for Air Conditioning

No matter how you spend your summer, you are bound to spend part of it in air-conditioning. It follows that you need some clothes that go from hot-to-cool, and so keep you from getting in either a swivet or a deep-freeze.

Several kinds of clothes do the job superbly. In summery fabrics and colors, the jacket costume is a natural bastion against sudden temperature changes. Newer, and perhaps more fashion-oriented, are the sleeved body-skimmers and shirt dresses.

Actually covered-up, free-flowing clothes are known to provide the best defense against fluctuating temperatures. As witness the desert Arab, who's flowing robes offer equal protection against sizzling days and chilling nights.

Comfort, Too

Materials contribute to comfort, too. Porous and absorbent fabrics—cotton, tweed, rustic linen, lace knits, sheer wool—are impevorous to the thermometer. They seem to have a built-in thermostat. When you're hot they keep you cool, and vice versa.

Since the need for genuinely air-conditioned clothes has gained recognition by leading designers, a collection of them has come into being. And that is a good omen for us girls who like to be comfortable, as well as smart. When you come right down to it, how smart can you look if you're uncomfortable?

In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "Your Most Flattering Colors." To obtain a copy, send your request to Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5c in coin.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

GUEST OUT OF STEP

Dear Louise: I was unfortunate enough to choose a very warm night last summer to give a dinner party. A vivacious woman guest took it upon herself to tell all the men to remove their coats and be comfortable, so that they all came to the table in their shirt-sleeves.

which offended me very much, as this has never been done in my home. Am I making too much of this?

Louise Davis Answers: Indeed you're not. Everybody was out of step but you. Your vivacious guest had no right to take it upon herself to invite the men to remove their coats except in her own home. She was extremely rude to you for taking such liberties. If the men had been gentlemen, their coats wouldn't have come off. The wives who happened to hear your guest's remark should have given their husbands a nudge, a look or a whispered comment to do no such thing unless the suggestion came from the hostess.

In spite of your own "house rule" of coats-on-always, perhaps you eventually would have broken it on that very hot night so that the men would have been more comfortable.
